How British Bag 3 Nazi Subs in Convoy Attack

London

March 13 (INS)

•U. S. OFFICIAL

An exciting account of an attack on an Atlantic convoy last December during which the destroyer Stanley, formerly the U. S. S. Bailey, and three Nazi U-boats were sunk was issued by the British admiralty today.

Two German planes also were destroyed in the course of the running battle.

The attack on the convoy began Dec. 17 when the air escort sighted the German submarine U-131, the admiralty account related.

Escorting warships dropped depth charges and some exploded close to the U-boat's hull. Its motors were damaged and water poured into the submarine, which was forced to come to the surface.

NAZI CREW CAPTURED

The warships escorting the convoy closed in quickly and with their guns belching shells. The U-boat's crew opened the vents and abandoned their craft, which sank. All 48 members of the crew, including the commander, Kapitan Arned Baumann, were captured.

The admiralty said most of the crew members were young and only three had previous experience in submarine warfare.

The Nazi submarine U-434, a 500-tonner, was sighted next day. The destroyers closed in, set a depth charge, damaging the engine room, steering gear and hydroplanes and the submarine was sinking rapidly. The German commander, Kapitan-Lieut. Wolfgang Heyda, 26-year-old former gunnery expert, ordered the tanks blown in order to reach the surface to allow the crew to escape.

43 NAZIS PICKED UP

The submarine immediately sank. Forty-three of the crew were picked up and one drowned.

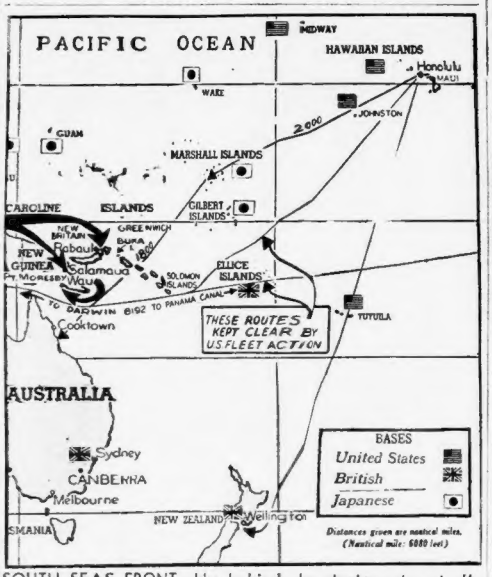
A third undersea craft, the U-574, a 500-ton submarine commissioned in the middle of 1941, came up to the convoy on the morning of Dec. 17 and witnessed the destruction of a Focke-wuelf plane by aircraft from H. M. S. Audacity, then apparently lost touch with the convoy during the destruction of the U-131.

Early on the morning of the 18th, the U-547 torpedoed the Stanley, which had participated in the sinking of the U-424.

The destroyer Stork dropped depth charges on the U-574.

The Nazi submarine was abandoned by its crew just as the Stork rammed the submarine and rolled it over, sending it to the bottom.

Of the total of six officers and 37 men aboard the U-boat, two officers and 25 men lost their lives.



SOUTH SEAS FRONT—Idea behind Jap strategy to cut off Australia and New Zealand from American aid can be seen in this map. Black arrows show how Tokyo's forces are blocking off northern sea routes. Later, if Japs sweep over Solomon and Ellice islands and Tutuila, the Panama and Honolulu routes to the Anzac sector would be cut.

NEW RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN RIO STREETS

Rio de Janeiro

March 13 (INS)

New rioting broke out in the streets of Rio de Janeiro today when special police were called to disperse crowds to prevent a repetition of yesterday's destructive raids on Axis business establishments.

Angry crowds, aroused by Axis sinkings of Brazilian ships, again surged through the streets crying bitterly against the losses of Brazilian lives and property.

Police, apparently fearing a general repetition of yesterday's disorders, dealt severely with isolated groups of would-be rioters, dispersing them with shots fired into the air and threatening immediate arrest.

Armed guards patrolled the areas where German-owned business houses had been wrecked. It was noted that no Italian establishments were molested by the inflamed crowds, whose anger reached explosive proportions with official confirmation of the torpedoing of a fifth Brazilian ship.

Infuriated citizens manhandled a number of Germans and one who shouted, "Long live Germany," was promptly arrested by a federal judge who was passing by.

Another German, a bank employe, threatened the crowd with a hand grenade but was quickly disarmed and arrested by police.

Reports from Sao Paulo said crowds had formed there but were dispersed by police before they did any damage to Axis-owned shops.

RED THRUST MAY FOIL NAZI SPRING DRIVE

London

March 13 (AP)

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's terrific southern front onslaught, with perhaps 90 Red army divisions, was reported today to have beaten the Germans to the punch in a pre-spring offensive for control of the Donets Basin and the road to the Caucasus.

From Stockholm came word the Germans had been forced to dip anew into reserves trained for their own spring push and still were unable to stem the new power drive by Soviet forces estimated at 1,250,000 to 1,500,000 strong.

The Germans' communique acknowledged their troops were on

The War Department reported today that American flying fortress bombers shot down five enemy pursuit planes in carrying out devastating raids on enemy-held airdromes in New Guinea, indicating United States aircraft and submarines already are on the offensive in the Pacific.

In the wake of successful submarine attacks in the far Pacific, the War Department, in its latest communique, stated that "all buildings were destroyed and heavy damage was inflicted" on Japanese invasion points north of Australia.

The bombers attacked airdromes and dock facilities at Salamaua and Lae in New Guinea, scoring numerous hits on installations.

No losses were suffered by the American force.

This was the second successful U. S. Army bomber raid in the Australian war theater. Previously, heavy American bombers scored hits on seven Jap invasion ships.

RAF RAID FIRES KIEL NAVY BASE

London

March 13 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

The RAF bombed the 26,000-ton battleship Gneisenau and set naval installations on fire at the Kiel base in continuation last night of the "great spring air offensive" begun last week-end.

The Air Ministry said today that improved flying conditions, after bad weather Wednesday, enabled a medium force of four and two-engined bombers to strike at northwestern Germany and mine German waters.

The loss of eight RAF planes during the last raid on Kiel was attributed by Air Ministry sources to strong German anti-aircraft defenses ringing the Kiel base.

German night fighter planes also engaged British planes during the attack.

The RAF apparently returned to the attack on German-held territory this afternoon. Residents of southeast coast towns heard the roar of a great number of planes heading in the direction of Calais and Boulogne, on the French coast.

Shortly afterward bursts of cannon fire and the boom of heavy anti-aircraft guns on the French coast were heard. It appeared to be the biggest operation of a busy day. Earlier many squadrons of planes had been heard going and returning over the channel.

The raiders left many fires burning in the Kiel shipyards.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), March 13 (AP) — British bombers attacked Kiel, site of a big German naval base, during the night, causing some casualties, the Nazi high command declared today.

Jap Stab Aimed to Cut U. S.-Anzac Life-Line

•OFFICIAL NEWS

MELBOURNE, March 13 (AP)—Japan's most advanced invasion spearhead, apparently blunted momentarily on the northeast New Guinea coast, was reported officially today to have stabbed off at a tangent into the Solomon Islands in a new threat to the supply line from the United States and to the island bridge toward New Zealand.

The move was disclosed in an Australian air force communique which said a Japanese naval force was seen three days ago off Kessa, on tiny Buka Island, stepping stone from New Britain to the Solomons.

Smashing at the bases the Japanese would need either for a thrust against Australia or southeast along the island chain, the RAAF bombed the Japanese-used airfield at Gasmata, on New Britain's south coast, yesterday.

A communique said:

"All our bombs fell in the target area and columns of smoke rose from the ground."

JAP RAIDERS ROUTED

It added that Japanese fighter planes were beaten off, one was damaged and the raiders returned safely after their ammunition was almost exhausted.

There was no definite indication whether the Japanese landed at Buka, but it was recalled that several times earlier Jap planes have scouted and bombed Bougainville and other Solomon Islands stretching southeast toward the New Hebrides and New Zealand.

(The crew of a Japanese seaplane was reported to have planted the flag of the Rising Sun at Kieta, capital of Bougainville, Jan. 23, after the town was deserted. There has been no authoritative indication of other attemps by the Japanese to follow

QUEEN MARY, 10,000 TROOPS ABOARD, STOPS 3 DAYS AT RIO

LONDON, March 13 (INS)—Reuter's News Agency today picked up a broadcast by the Vichy news agency stating the giant liner Queen Mary, now a troop transport, recently called at Rio de Janeiro with 10,000 American and British troops aboard.

The Vichy dispatch, datelined "On the Italian Frontier," said:

"The Queen Mary made a three-day stay in Rio de Janiero bay and left for an unknown destination.

"She had 10,000 British and American troops aboard and was escorted into the South Atlantic by three warships.

Jekyll-Hyde Holdup Boy Slain by Cop

His venture into crime ended early today in the morgue, Louis B. Grandison, Jr., 18-year-old Boston College freshman, was revealed today by Malden police as a youth with a double life—quiet student by day, bandit by night—a Jekyll-Hyde.

Grandison, meber of a proinent Somerville family, excellent student and talented musician, was shot down in the act of holding up the Elmwood Pharmacy at Pleasnt and Pearl sts., Malden.

Early this afternoon his b dy had been identified in the morgu by workers in two other drugstores, one in Medford and one in Cambridge, as the youth who held up and robbed them on recent nights.

HOLDUP LAST MONDAY

John J. Camuso, who was robbed of $40 in his pharmacy at Central ave and Kenmore rd., Medford, told Malden officials that Grandison was the soda-sipping bandit who dawdled over a drink until all other customers had left—and then had staged the holdup, only last Monday night.

As the identifications were being made it was reported that Special Officer William J. Butler, who shot down Grandison, will be commended by Police Commr. James G. Noonan of Malden.

Commr. Noonan, Mayor Vernon C. Newman and Maurice Blomerth of Malden's auxiliary police conferred today, and at the session Blomerth turned over to the commissioner a purse of $100 for Butler, raised by citizens, according to Blomerth, in appreciation of the officer's alertness.

PARENTS AT DEATHBED

At the college freshman's bedside in Malden Hospital, where he died early today without having recovered consciousness, were his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Louis J. Grandison of Dartmouth st., Somerville, leaders in the city's civic and charitable circles.

They were so overcome that apparently they found little consolation in the knowledge that the boy's weapon, a .22-caliber target pistol, owned by his father, was unloaded. Police pointed out that this fact indicated that the youth had not intended to couple the crime of shooting with the holdup.

Only half an hour before the tragedy, young Grandison was at

CARTER'S INK EMPLOYES GIVE $25,000

BUY BOMBERS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS! Experts are agreed there is only one sure way to win this titanic struggle and that is by taking the offensive. To do that successfully the United Nations need fabulous numbers of tanks, guns, ships and BOMBERS.

Your BONDS help Uncle Sam buy those vital important BOMBERS and all the other instruments of war.

From the patriotic employes of Carter's Ink Co., Cambridge, today came a pledge of $25,000 to add to the BUY A MASSACHUSETTS BOMBER fund. This figure represents almost 100 per cent participation in a payroll deduction plan by the 388 employes.

"After the payroll deduction plan was first announced, the immediate response was nearly 100 per cent," a company spokesman enthusiastically reported to the BUY A BOMBER editor of the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

"Most of those who did not join in the drive are employes who are about to leave for military or naval service in the near future. Others promised to participate as soon as they were able.

"The Carter's Federal Credit Union has already purchased BONDS totaling $2000 and we expect that our employes will purchase a total of $25,000 in BONDS in one year's time."

BOOST THEIR PLEDGE

The weekly deduction plan outlined for Carter's Ink employes provides for a separate account for each individual. When the total deductions amount to enough to BUY A BOND they are turned over to the Credit Union and the Union issues the Bond.

"If, Please, Send Money" SOS Gets Results in Belmont

Belmont Police Chief William G. Heyd received a letter today from his drafted laundryman-friend, Wong Ging Jung, 23, who left the chief 35 bundles of laundry to distribute to customers.

It said:

"How's business? If, please, to send money."

The chief said he had collected $10 for Jung and that he would send him a money order for the amount—together with two unpaid bills, one for electricity and one for water.

NORWAY SEEN AS KEY IN ALLIES' PLANS FOR INVASION OF GERMANY

"The time now has come when we must proceed with the business of carrying the war to the enemy."—Gen. George Marshall, U. S. Chief of Staff.

There are at least five good reasons for believing Norway is destined to become one of the turnpikes over which Allied armies some day will roll toward Berlin.

In this northern country of fjords and forests a common front with Russia could be built.

Here Nazi Germany could be engaged in the type of diversion action Josef Stalin has been urging.

Successful invasion might forestall attacks on vital Iceland and even on England.

The problem of joining British and American forces with their Russian Allies involves, in Norway, only one thing—a drive across the top. Topography favors the invader.

Northern terrain is ideal for infiltration tactics such as those practiced by Japan; the indented coastline is difficult to guard. Once entrenched in the region,

MURDER, SUICIDE END TRYST IN AUTO

NEW BEDFORD, March 13—With her divorce action listed for trial today, Mrs. Irene C. Bollea of Summer st., 35-year-old mother of two children, was found shot to death today in a car parked in Sutton st., in the remote Mt. Pleasant section.

Slumped beside Mrs. Bollea in the front seat was the body of Jarvis Presley, 40, a salesman, of Oswego, N. Y., and Manchester Ct., also dead from gunshot wounds.

Dr. William B. Rosen, medical examiner, said the double tragedy was murder and suicide.

DIVORCE TRIAL TODAY

Both Mrs. Bollea and Presley had been shot through the head with bullets from a gun found on the car floor, police said.

A note to Presley's brother, Leon, of Oswego, N. Y., was found in the car. In it the couple asked forgiveness, gave instructions for disposal of Presley's money and added:

"It couldn't be helped."

Police said Mrs. Bollea recently filed suit for divorce from Albert Bollea, a defense worker. She charged cruelty and abuse. Trial had been ordered in New Bedford probate court today.

Her two children are June, four, and George, two.

BUS DRIVERS' DISCOVERY

The deaths were discovered by a bus driver who noted the car lights were burning after daylight. He saw the couple in the front seat and attempted to rouse them, believing they were asleep. When he saw the bullet wounds in their heads, he hastened to notify police at North End station.

Mrs. Bollea, a WPA worker, was employed at police headquarters on a filing and record project. She worked there up to last night and gave no intimation of her desperate plan to any of her fellow-workers, police said.

Normandie On Fire Again

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—A fire apparently originating in rubbish aboard the flame-ravaged $60,000,000 liner Normandie was quickly extinguished today.

Workmen engaged in salvaging the 83,423-ton craft sent an alarm that brought 100 armed coastguardsmen, a fireboat and an engine. They brought the blaze under control in 15 minutes.

The liner, seized by the government last December and converted into the naval auxiliary Lafayette, was damaged by a blaze Feb. 9. She capsized after this fire was extinguished.

SALVAGE OF ABANDONED CAR RAILS WILL START IN STATE

Unused trolley car tracks on the streets of Massachusetts would build five heavy cruisers or 300 destroyers and plans were under way today to salvage the metal.

The Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission said that there were 49,000 tons of steel available and the committee on public safety immediately got busy.

WPA workers may be used in salvaging operations.

Carroll L. Meins, chairman of the commission, announced the Boston Elevated had offered more than 8000 tons of its unused tracks.

TO START ON ATLANTIC AVE.

Work of tearing the abandoned Atlantic ave. structure of the Boston Elevated Railway begins Monday with ceremonies in Dewey sq., in front of South Station. Invited to take part in the ceremonies were: Governor Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin and Meins.

A survey showed the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. had available 26,500 tons of steel rails, representing 191 miles of track, as well as a ton of copper wire, 10 tons of steel poles and 44 tons of miscellaneous scrap. Berkshire Street Railway has 1874 tons of rails and five tons of steel in abandoned bridges. East Taunton Street Railway has 126 tons. Fitchburg and Leominster Street Railway has 1000 tons of rails and a ton of copper. Holyoke Street Railway has 1400 tons.

1208 TONS IN NEW BEDFORD

Union Street Railway in New Bedford has 1208 tons of tracks, 90 steel poles and 10 tons of scrap. Worcester Street Railway has 3683 tons of tracks and 73 tons of scrap.

Brockton and Lawrence alreay have sold 2600 tons of rails to dealers and the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway has disposed of more than 500 tons to the City of Waltham.

Fireman's Wife Wins Suit, Accuses Rival

Though her husband is a member of the Dorchetser Homing Pigeon Club he frequently failed to emulate the pigeons, according to testimony today by Mrs. Julia M. Mullen in Dedham Court, where she was awarded separate support.

Mother of six children, Mrs. Mullen told Judge James F. Reynolds she first became suspicious that Lieut Francis G. Mullen of the Milton fire department was straying when he stayed away from home three nights a week until 4 a. m.

Lieu. Mullen admitted in his testimony he has been meeting another woman in Quincy sq., Quincy, on various occasions for 10 years, but he denied ever having been unfaithful to his wife.

HE MUST PAY $22.50

The lieutenant said the other woman was one with whom he had kept company before his marriage, one he has known for 30 years.

Under cross-examination he said he would rather his wife got a divorce, but Judge Reynolds allowed her separate support petition and ordered the lieutenant to pay her $22.50 a week.

Mrs. Mullen testified that it was in April, 1940, when he began staying out late at night. When she asked him where he had been he told her he had been having "a little game of cards with the boys."

However, she telephoned to the wives of other members of the homing pigeon club, she testified, and the card-playing story failed to check.

SHE TOLD THE CHILDREN

Mrs. Mullen said that as the result of a telephone call in November, 1940, she told her children:

"There's the story, children; your father is running around with another woman."

She said that Lieut. Mullen was present and that he "snickered and laughed," but made no comment.

On May 8, 1941, according to the wife's story, he went to Quincy and, as the result of another telephone call, she visited a cafe and saw her husband seated in a booth with a woman she knew.

The lieutenant left the booth and walked over to his wife, she said, and greeted her with the remark:

"What the hell do you want?"

CHIDES HER RIVAL

Mrs. Mullen testified she made no reply but instead went to the booth and said to the other woman:

"Hello. How are you? Your husband will love this story."

The witness said the woman made no reply and Mrs. Mullen walked out.

She testified that the lieutenant has called her "vile names" in front of thec h?ildren and that he called her such names on the occasion of their 21st wedding anniversary.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Mullen admitted having had a discussion with the husband of the other woman, but denied saying to him that all she (Mrs. Mullen) cared about was her husband's pocketbook.

HE'S GOOD FATHER

Also she admitted the fire lieutenant has been a good father to his children.

The couple separated last November, she said, but she would never go back now to live with him.

Two of the six Mullen children, 16-year-old Phyllis and 20-year-old Edward, testified for the mother. Both said they had seen their father meet another woman in Quincy sq., and Phyllis said she had seen him go into a cafe with the woman.

Edward testified that he has lost his love for his father since learning of the woman.

NEW CORPORATE TAX PLAN SEEN 'SOAKING' SMALL FIRMS

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Representative Cooper (D.) of Tennessee asserted today corporate tax proposals of the National Ass'n of Manufacturers would "soak" the smaller companies and "let the big ones out."

He made the statement as J. Cheever Cowdin, NAM representative, was recalled by the House ways and means committee for questioning about the organization's recommendations for a 90 per cent excess profit tax after payment of a 40 per cent normal and surtax.

Cooper said under NAM's proposals a corporation with $1000,000,000 net income would pay $40,000,000, and under present law would pay $47,528,000. Speaking of the difference, he said:

"That would be the amount of money lost to the Treasury under your plan and here we're called upon in this critical hour to raise $7,000,000,000."

Codwin retorted the organization's plan would yield $1,500,000,000 more from both large and small concerns than they currently pay.

"But your plan does favor the largest ones," Cooper insisted.

Cowdin sharply disagreed, saying the only companies which might be aided in that respect were those whose earnings are between 100 per cent and 200 per cent of their base credit, based on pre-war profits.

In questioning Cowdin, Cooper developed the NAM recommended no tax rate differential between large an small companies while present law gives an advantage to concerns with less than $25,000 net income.

Cowdin an Cooper agreed there should be some differential and Cowdin said that question was one he forgot in presenting his program.

Texans Want Oil With Their Land Big Sale Reveals

AUSTIN, Tex. March 13 (AP) A Texan likes to know what he's getting.

Since advertising 230,000 acres of state land for sale, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles has received scores of letters asking:

"Does the land have oil under it?"

Cotton, Rayon Goods Have Top Price Set

WASHINGTON, March 13 (INS)—Charging that present prices on finished goods made from cotton and rayon were "entirely too high," the OPA today imposed a temporary price ceiling on such products pending issuance of permanent regulations.

The action was designed to prevent further rises in the price of many items made from finished piece goods such as women's and children's dresses, women's suits, coats, housecoats, pajamas, men's shirts, curtains and drapery maaterials.

Biddle, McCormack Given B. U. Degrees

Boston University today awarded honorary degrees to 12 lawyers, including U. S. Atty.-Gen. Francis Biddle and Congressman John W. McCormack of South Boston, majority leader in the House.

Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of the university, made the awards in conjunction with the university's 12th annual founder's day, which is observing the 70th anniversary of the university's law school.

Biddle and McCormack each received doctor of laws degrees.

AWARDED DEGREES

The other degrees were presented to:

Fred Tarbell Field, chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court (doctor of civil law).

Clarence Manion, dean of the University of Notre Dame College of Law (Juris Utriusque Doctor).

Elliott Evans Cheatham, professor of law in the Columbia University School of Law and president of the Association of American Law Schools (Doctor of Laws).

Albert James Harno, dean of the University of Illinois College of Law (Doctor of Letters).

Col. Archibald King, a member of the Judge Advocate General's Department, United States Army (Doctor of Laws).

LAW TRAINING CHANGES

Changes in the educational system for lawyers, so as to keep them abreast of new world conditions were advocated by Prof. Cheatham.

Discussing two aspects of law education, Cheatham said:

"The first, the separation between law schools and graduate schools, cannot wisely be maintained. In the training of governmental administrations, some study of law is important. And in the training of government lawyers it is certainly no less important that there be some study of the social sciences, or, as the chief justice of the United States has said, of 'those energizing forces which are producing the technical doctrine of the law.'

"The second aspect is that the university years of training should seek to develop the sense of fairness and responsibility in the future civil servants. The value of a service which represents the government in its dealings with the people depends as much on the spirit of its members as on their technical competence."

May Deny Roads Freight Rate Rise

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration asked the nation's railroads today to suspend approved freight rate increases on 10 large groups of commodities, including petroleum, lumber and pig iron, and gave notice it contemplated seeking cancellation of the entire rate increase.

Assistant Price Administrator Dexter M. Keezer, who said he was "authorized to speak for" the OPA, made the request at a meeting of the Railroad Committee of Twenty-OOne here. He said the increase would "completely disrupt" the scrap iron price ceiling and several other price control efforts of OPA.

The increase provides a 6 per cent boost on most industrial freight and 3 per cent on farm products.

Keezer said:

"If the earnings indicate the railroads can absorb the wage increase which this freight increase was designed to offset for the most part, we contemplate asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to revoke the rate increase as a whole."

2 Hurt in Back Bay Collision With Truck

Two men suffered slight injuries today when their car was thrown 200 feet, its left side ripped off, after colliding with a 10-ton trailer truck at Charles and Beacon sts., downtown.

Arthur Furfey of Eliot st., Watertown, who police said was the driver, escaped with a severe shaking up. Thomas J. Perkins, also of Eliot st., Watertown, B. & A. railroad police sergeant was treated at the Massachusetts General Hospital for a lacerated ear.

Official U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The text of the War Department's communique No. 145, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m. (EWT) today, follows:

"1—Philippine theater: The situation is unchanged.

"2—New Guinea: Five American Army heavy bombers of the flying fortress type raided the Japanese held airdrome at Salamaua and Lae in New Guinea on March 11. All buildings were destroyed and heavy damage was inflicted on runways. At the harbor of Lae a direct hit was made on a pier. Our bombers were attacked by a formation of Japanese fighting planes. Five enemy planes were shot down. None of our bombers was damaged.

"3—There is nothing to report from other areas.

25 Million Cut From Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The House tentatively slashed $25,000,000 from the agriculture appropriations bill today, cutting in half the allotment for administrative expenses and grants in the farm rehabilitation program.

The action on the reduction—largest single cut thus far in the farm supply bill—came on a teller vote of 142 to 119 as President Roosevelt was reported reliably as considering a veto of the entire measure.

Rep. Hope (R.) of Kansan, said the $25,000,000 cut would put the rehabilitation program "out of business," but Rep. Woodrum (D.) of Virginia told the House that administrators of the program "have to advertise to get these people to come in and take the money" offered as rehabilitation grants.

Wooden Tires Survive Test of 75 Miles Per Hour

BOONTON, N. J., March 13 (INS)—Claude Habberstad, builder, investor and author, claimed today to have the answer to the rubber tire shortage.

He devised a hardwood auto tire, toughened by chemicals. Using the wood tires on the front wheels only, Habberstad drove 75 miles an hour. He said the wood tires lacked sufficient traction for use on the rear.

U. S. Opposes Jap-Vatican Tie

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The State Department disclosed it had made representations to the Vatican objecting to the establishment of relations between Japan and the Holy See, asked by Japan.

A spokesman said the department's communication was to inform the Vatican this country's attitude to such relations would be unfavorable and that they would be regarded with suspicion because Japan had no interest in Catholicism and the State Department believed that such a move was made solely to stir up trouble.

F. D. WEIGHS WAGE CEILING AS CURB TO WAR INFLATION

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The question of wage control as a war measure is under study, President Roosevelt asserted today.

The Chief Executive declined at a press conference to go into the question of putting a ceiling on wages as an anti-inflation step but he did disclose that the whole problem was under consideration.

Asked whether he was considering "positive action on wage control," he replied crisply, it is under study.

To another question, whether any progress was being made on controlling inflation, Mr. Roosevelt said, in some ways, yes, and in some ways, no. He placed the action of the House in voting to ban sales of government-owned surplus farm products at below parity prices in the category of those things on what he termed the no side.

Proponents of a wage ceiling have contended it is necessary to cut purchasing power of individuals if inflation is to be checked, just as it is necessary to control prices.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked whether he had arrived at any opinion on how the Canadian system of wage control might work in this country. He said he did not know and had no news on the matter. This is only one factor of the situation under study, he said.

While Mrs. Roosevelt had written in her newspaper column (which appears in the Boston Evening American) of a meeting at the White House at which wage control was discussed, the Chief Executive said he had not participated in the meeting.

Margaret Anglin Cast In Mary Boland Role

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Margaret Anglin, veteran actress, will take Mary Boland's role in the play "The Rivals" tomorrow.

Miss Boland left the cast March 2, complaining she was ill. The Theater Guild charged she ran out on her contract and filed a claim for $4000, four weeks pay. She has been barred from stage, screen and radio pending a hearing by Actors' Equity in New York March 31. Miss Boland now is in Hollywood.

Miss Anglin will play two performances tomorrow before the show leaves for Boston.

Rescued Sea Skipper Dies in Auto Crash

NEWARK, N. J., March 13 (AP)—The borrowed time on which Capt. Bennett D. Coleman had been living since his schooner was wrecked at sea last week ended abruptly last night in an automobile crash.

The 73-year-old mariner three times escaped a seaman's death, but a taxicab in which he was a passenger and an automobile collided at South Orange ave. and 20th st. last night. Capt. Coleman was dead before arrival of an ambulance.

Just a week ago in a storm off Cape Hatteras the Falmouth Heights (Mass.), skipper was rescued for the third time by the Coast Guard when his four-masted schooner the Anna R. Heidritter with a cargo for Philadelphia out of Charleston, S. C., foundered in a storm.

All Quiet on Luzon Front

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The War Department reported today that the situation on the Bataan fighting front in the Philippines was unchanged.

For five consecutive days, following the disclosure that Lieut.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita had been shifted to command of the invaders in the Philippines, military activity has been at a virtually complete halt.

F.D. PLANS TO NIP BLACKOUT SABOTAGE

WASHINGTON, March 13 (INS)—Congress shortly will be asked for a supplemental appropriation of $18,000,000 to black out federal buildings properly all over the country and protect them from potential sabotage, President Roosevelt indicated today.

The President said the recent letter by Civilian Defense Director Landis concerning "obscuration by termination of illumination" had been rewritten to include the problem of the safety of buildings during blackouts.

There have been some instances of which the press is aware, and others of which it is not aware, where sabotage had been attempted, the President said. He had before him a memorandum from Budget Director Harold Smith pointing out the importance of safeguarding federal structures from sabotage.

It was estimated that protection and the provision of adequate blackout material for structures in Washington and the nation will cost approximately $18,000,000. The President declined to say what form the building protection would take when asked whether additional [illegible] would be listed.

Big 'Shots' Needed To Put Kick in Guns

WASHINGTON, March 13 (INS)—A couple of bar flies read in the morning papers what Rep. Dan Reed (R.) of New York, told the House about what it takes to put the kick in a 16-inch battleship shell.

They got out their pencils and started figuring on a pad of paper napkins, got a distinct shock, and ordered a couple more shots from the man in the white apron.

Here's what Reed said to upset them:

"It requires 55 gallons of alcohol to dehydrate the necessary amount of powder to fire a 16-inch shell.

"To produce one gallon of alcohol requires 16½ pounds of raw sugar. To fire a 16-inch gun once is equivalent to the firing of 907½ pounds of raw sugar. Every time you fire a 16-inch gun you fire 22 bushels of corn. The amount necessary to dehydrate the powder contained in a 16-inch shell."

And here's what their figuring disclosed:

It takes the equivalent of 7,40 shots over the bar to fire one shot from a 16-inch gun.

The standard barroom shot is one fluid ounce—a wine glassful. By United States law there are 128 fluid ounces in a gallon.

Fifty-five gallons of alcohol at 128 ounces to the gallon adds up to 7040 ounces, which would provide a modest drinker two bar shots of hootch every day for about 10 years, including Sundays and holidays.

No wonder Leon Henderson is threatening to ration sugar for the duration.

up with landings in the Solomons.)

These possibilities were foreseen:

1—That the Japanese strategy might call for a sweep southeast toward New Zealand to establish a screen of island bases between Australia and the United States before attempting invasion of the Australian continent;

2—That the move was a feint undertaken only to mask a developing onslaught, probably from New Guinea or Timor, directly against the long bleak reaches of the north or northwest coasts of Australia.

BASE ON NEW GUINEA

However, indications that the invaders were making ready to use the mountain-split, jungle-covered island of New Guinea as a big battle base were seen from RAAF reconnaissance reports that the Japanese were working at top speed to establish fighter plane stations along the northeast plane where they won footholds at Lae and Salamaua.

Whatever plans the Japanese might have had for quickly-won broader control of the island coast were declared, however, to have been disrupted by the hard aerial blows of British and American bombers.

The lack of communications on the island and its virtually impassable stretches of escarpments and jungle-tangled valleys also will play a part in disrupting the Japanese timetable. No single road connects the Japanese-won beachheads with the bases of Australian forces in key stations on the island.

TOUGHER THAN MALAYA

(The Australian radio, heard by CBS, said a war correspondent of the Melbourne Argus reported guerrilla forces still were in action against the Japanese on the northeast coast and were carrying out "valuable operations.")

Observers said that even though the Japanese were campaign-toughened and jungle-trained, they would find overland travel from the northeast coast to the Papuan coast at the south across Torres strait from Cape York, a harder task than any they had faced in Malaya.

These sources pointed to the success of the air attack which wrecked at least seven Japanese ships at Salamaua as an indication of what the Japanese would encounter if they tried to move invasion forces to the southern coast of the island by sea.

An air force spokesman said that so far the only Japanese fleet known to be within striking distance of Port Moresby on the south coast was the one at Salamaua.

RAF Planes Over Paris Put Stop to Horse Races

VICHY, March 13 (AP)—Paris had a 45-minute air raid alert today as an RAF scouting force cruised over the occupied capital, forced suspension of horse racing at the Vincennes track and surveyed the manufacturing area in the southwestern workers district. No bombs were dropped.

The planes were sighted over the Champs Elysees and Passy sections of western Paris on the right bank of the Seine and then passed over to the 15th arrondissement, an industrial quarter in southern Paris.

The first alarm—one of the few which Paris has had since the occupation in 1940 because German authorities ruled they disturbed civilian life more than raids themselves—sounded at 2:40 p. m., Paris time (8:40 a. m., E. W. T.).

Another alarm in Vincennes, on the eastern outskirts, eight minutes later, delayed the start of the weekend racing program. The all-clear sounded throughout the city at 3:25 p. m. (9:25 a. m., E. W. T.).

'Safest Place' in World Today? With M'Arthur, Says Aide

SALAMANCA, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Lieut.-Col. Sidney L. Huff, senior aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, believes he is in "about the safest place there is."

In a letter dated Feb. 4, he wrote his mother, Mrs. Jeanette H. Mohr of Salamanca:

"Am quite confident we will come out all O. K. in the end. So don't worry. I am in about the safest place there is . . . Do hope it don't last too long so that we can all be together again soon in the good old U. S. A."

How the letter was transmitted was not disclosed.

the defensive in the Donets Basin, counter-attacking against "strong enemy forces."

London observers said the objective of the hard-hitting Red army marshal was the Dnieper bend, natural defense line in the heart of the Ukraine.

His forward forces have been reported within 30 to 40 miles of the bend in sectors northeast of Dniepropetrovsk.

A military commentator said that although spring, by the calendar, is only a week away, snows still are so deep on the Staraya Russa front below Leningrad, where the German 16th army is trapped, that ski troops bear the brunt of operations.

He said the Russians still hold superiority in such operations.

Transportation, he said, is still difficult along the whole northern half of the front, and tracks are able to get through only on cleared roads.

Russian dispatches said the Germans were using poison gas in counter-attacks. Yes, but they failed just as badly . . . the Staraya Russa line.

TELLS WHY U. S. MUST FIGHT ALL OVER WORLD

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
WIDE WORLD WAR ANALYST

The Mikado's invasion fleet which is massing in New Guinea waters for an attack on Australia has suffered a nasty knock from Allied bombers, at least 13 Japanese ships having been destroyed—emphasizing that the Japs are in a fair way to lose their shirts if they try to carry out the threat made yesterday by Premier Tojo to conquer all Australia unless it falls in line with the "greater East Asia sphere."

United States warplanes are playing a large part in this counter-offensive, and we are rushing further aid to Australia. Indeed, the defense of that great continent will depend heavily on Uncle Sam, for while Australia has the courage and magnificent fighting men, she lacks the equipment, especially the air service, upon which the conflict must turn.

In view of our effort here, and our other world-wide commitments—in India, from which Tojo says the last vestige of British power is to be struck, in Eritrea where we are establishing a great base for co-operation with the British, and in the British Isles themselves—this seems a good spot to answer an inquiry from some of my readers.

U. S. SINKS WITH BRITAIN

They have written to demand, with more vigor than logic, why it is that Uncle Sam is fighting to defend the British Empire when John Bull himself is allowing it to slip away from him bit by bit. Why don't we look after our own interests and let the English look after theirs? In short, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Well, in the first place, that query has a faulty premise. We aren't expending an ounce of war effort which isn't needed to safeguard our country and our homes. Looking at it from the standpoint of pure self-interest, we are busy saving our skins.

Uncle Sam and John Bull are two men in a boat on a stormy sea, and if one goes under, so does the other.

Of course, aapart from the fact that we have to make war the way we're doing, whether we wish it or not, a good many of us like to feel that we are indeed fighting for John Bull and little Holland and Greece and all our other friends who have been caught in distress.

NO PLACE TO ISOLATE

The good neighbor policy is a much happier outlook on life, especially since this world of ours has shrunk to the size of an apple. There is no place in which we can isolate ourselves.

The front lines for our home defense lie overseas. Hitler's minions made that plain to us yesterday when Berlin bragged that the Axis has sunk 823,200 tons of shipping in American and Central American waters since we entered the war.

And the Japs have painted the thing up for us plainly enough by bombarding our California coast from a submarine.

When we help our good friends the Anzacs we are creating a base which will help us defeat the Japanese, and thereby not only protect our West coast and island possessions, but compel the Nipponese to keep the door of the Orient open to our trade.

NORWAY SEEN AS KEY TO MARCH ON BERLIN

British-American troops might not only release Soviet troops for duty elsewhere but could keep secure the important northern supply route to Archangel on which Russia is dependent for much of her outside aid.

TROOPS BEING TRAINED

To conquer Norway, Germany sent half a million men northward, later reduced her forces to about 100,000. Reinforcing these in sufficient numbers to counter an Allied invasion would involve taking troops from other fronts, certainly some from Russia. Swedish sources have reported five new divisions already sent to Norway in addition to a large force stationed in Denmark.

The Allies, meanwhile, also have been moving troops. In North Ireland are at least two Yankee contingents—soldiers from the midwestern United States. Canadians also have been arriving in increasing numbers.

Trained in invasion tactics, these two expeditionary forces presumably would be welded with Britons into a single, unified command for the first great step toward enemy soil.

TRONDHEIM KEY

Pivot in the defense of Norway would be the city of Trondheim, nestling on a sheltered fjord behind defenses Hitler has described as comparable to the Siegfried Line. German reports tell of a great naval base here but persons reaching the United States from Norway in recent months say construction barely had started last summer. It seems certain there are no large drydocks and there is doubt if vessels above 10,000 tons could be repaired.

Major air and naval operations already are under way, involving German capital ships, British torpedo planes undoubtedly operating from an aircraft carrier, other British warships and United Nations convoys.

These cannot be explained entirely by the routine movement of American and British supplies to Archangel.

Free Europe, a review of international affairs published in London, said that an Allied spring offensive in the west should have a good chance of success, for the forces now concentrated in the British Isles presumably are stronger than those the Germans have disposed from Kirkenes, Norway, to Hendaye, France.

The 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz the 10,000-ton Admiral Scheer and the 10,000-ton Admiral Hipper have been reported at Trondheim, and a report that the German cruiser Prinz Eugen was torpedoed and badly damaged by a British submarine was published by the London News Chronicle.

BERGEN BASE BLASTED

The News Chronicle said the Prinz Eugen is in Trondheim harbor with a bad hole in its hull.

Other important naval installations are at Bergen, where a bombproof submarine base has been blasted under a cliff of solid rock, and at Mandal, in the south, where vessels up to cruiser size can be accommodated.

FORTIFYING COAST

The German radio has described the entire coastline from Kirkenes to Oslo as "highly fortified" but both Swedish and British sources indicate heavy defenses are concentrated only near key cities. From Trondheim south, heavy barbed wire and machine gun nests cover most exposed points; north of Trondheim engineers are known to be at work under direction of German Munitions Minister Albert Speer, who succeeded Maj.-Gen. Fritz Todt.

The new Finmark highway, winding along the northern coastline, is being utilized in the defense scheme but several of its bridges have been blown up, probably by Norwegian saboteurs.

India Leaders Weigh Self-Rule Proposal

NAGPUR, India, March 13 (INS)—Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, president of the Indian national congress, was scheduled to arrive at Wardha tonight to discuss the Indian self-rule campaign with Gandhi.

They were to devote special attention to the forthcoming visit to India of Sir Stafford Cripps, lord privy seal in the British cabinet, who will bring with him details of the government's new plan with regard to independence.

Later the working committee of the National Congress will hold a meeting, which will be attended by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, chairman of the Congress war emergency committee.

Gandhi was represented as not particularly hopeful, but he said:

"We will accept Prime Minister Churchill's advice and say nothing now.

"Cripps and myself are both food faddists. That is the only similarity between us."

Despite Gandhi's attitude, a feeling of optimism prevailed in other Indian quarters and the country remained keenly expectant regarding the results of Sir Stafford's forthcoming mission.

3D REGIONAL BLACKOUT SET FOR MONDAY

The third of a series of regional blackouts will be held Monday in western Massachusets, public safety committee officials said today as reports of the first big-scale blackout in the Worcester area were being studied.

Police of central Massachusetts said court action will be taken against nearly 100 violators of blackout regulations in last night's test in Region III in the first wide-spread prosecution undertaken in this state

Monday's test will cover an area of approximately 1100 square miles including Pittsfield, North Adams, Great Barrington and surrounding cities and towns. The territory will be darkened from 9 to 9:20 p. m.

Cape Cod, from Bourne to Provincetown, will be the scene of another regional blackout Sunday night

Under a cloudless sky, the pitch dark of Worcester was pierced by lights burning in store windows, store basements, homes and parked automobiles

The police department itself received scores of complaints, and Anthony J. Malozzi, a district warden of the city prepared a list of 100 violations for police attention

A second blackout was staged in a Greater Boston segment comprising Arlington, Belmont, Watertown, Lincoln, Weston and Wellesley. This area with its nearly 200,000 residents reported satisfactory results.

Josef Hofmann Blackout Star

LEBANON, Pa., March 13 (AP)—Josef Hofmann, world renowned pianist, treated an audience of 1500 to an impromptu concert during a practice blackout last night

Hofmann had just finished a scheduled concert when an announcement was made from the stage that a county-wide blackout would be held in two minutes.

As the house lights went out and the audience settled back for 15-minutes of silence, the musician strode back to the piano, turned a dim spotlight on himself and played six encores.

Then as the house lights blazed on again, Hofmann, without taking a bow, played a thunderous "Star Spangled Banner."

MODEL BOY SHOT BY COP IN MALDEN STORE HOLDUP

home, where he had spent the evening playing the piano, his father said, after a few hours of intensive study.

When Dr. Grandison returned home from a medical meeting, around 11:30 last night, he said Louis jumped up from the piano and asked to borrow the car.

A few minutes later he came back home, with hot coffee and sandwiches for his mother and father.

ENTERS DRUG STORE

Then, before time for retiring, he told his father he had decided to take the car for a short ride, promising to be back soon.

About an hour later, as Joseph Epstein, proprietor of the Malden drugstore was preparing to close, a well-dressed youth entered and asked for a carton of cigarettes.

Epstein reached under the case for the box and as he stood up he found himself staring into the muzzle of a revolver.

"Hand me the money and be quick about it. Just the bills; never mind the change," the youth ordered.

The intruder then seized $13 and commanded Epstein to raise his hands. Slowly he backed toward the door.

TRAPPED BY OFFICER

At this moment he was seen by Special Officer William J. Butler of the Malden police inspectors' department. Butler, off duty, had parked his auto in a garage and was walking home when he happened to glance in the drugstore window.

He said he saw Epstein, facing a gun, standing with hands upraised. Butler drew his .38-caliber service revolver and waited in the darkness outside the pharmacy door.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

When the holdup man, his back to Butler, had edged out of the door, the officer spoke:

"All right, buddy, drop that pistol and put 'em up."

Instead, the youth whirled around and lifted the pistol. Butler fired and the bullet crashed into the gunman's forehead.

The boy fell to the sidewalk. Butler ran into the store and telephoned for an ambulance, which rushed the mortally wounded youth to the hospital.

On the sidewalk where he fell, detectives found the boy bandit's gun. Nearby was a two-tone sedan, one door partly opened, the motor running.

Police traced the ownership of the car through its registration to Dr. Grandison, who also claimed the target pistol as his. Shocked and still unbelieving, the well-to-do doctor raced to the hospital, there to admit it was his son who lay wounded on the operating table.

BULLET IN BRAIN

The bullet was found lodged in the back of young Grandison's head and the doctor quickly summoned specialists to consult on means to save the youth's life.

An hour later, however, the boy weakened suddenly and died, parents, doctors and close friends at his bedside.

Gifted and good looking, young Grandison had been a popular student at Somerville High School, from which he was graduated last year.

Russia to Boost Production of All Livestock

MOSCOW, March 13 (AP)—Soviet Russia moved today to increase production of livestock of all kinds to maintain her record, set in this war, of being the first nation to feed all of her fighters herself.

An official decree boosted quotas for livestock production on collective farms in these proportions: Cattle, 16,935,000 for 1942 against 13,361,000 in 1941; sheep and goats, 50,260,000 against 39,167,000; hogs, 5,800,000 against 4,221,000, and horses, 8,320,000, with no 1941 figure available.

Additional increases were also ordered for chickens and rabbits.

Hongkong Horror Told by Fugitive

By BETTY GRAHAM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CALCUTTA, India, March 13 (INS)—Wounded officers and men forced to sleep on draughty floors in their own blood-stained uniforms . . . No medicines to heal them . . . Sacks of rice doled out for rations with no fuel to cook it and make it palatable.

These are fragments from the awful picture of Hongkong after the Japanese added that once proud British crown colony to the empire they hope to extend throughout the world. They were sketched by one of four British soldiers who managed to escape and who arrived in Chungking on Jan. 9.

When I left the Chinese capital a few days ago, British restrictions were still in force against publicizing details of the murder, rape and pillage visited upon Hongkong by the Jap conquerors.

Since then Foreign Secretary Eden has told the story to the House of Commons.

STORY OF SURVIVOR

Here is the story of one of the survivors as told [illegible] Jan. 1 [illegible] Canadian [illegible]

"There were about 3000 of us—Indians, Canadians and English. We fought the best we could against the Japanese but we lost. So they put us in a concentration camp at Kowloon.

"The windows of the buildings were broken and the doors smashed in. There weren't any beds. We had to sleep on the floor. In most instances, because we had no change of clothes. A lot of them were wounded.

"My own British unit—about a thousand men—had 150 wounded. We had one doctor. There were no nurses. Worse, there was no medicine and the Japs wouldn't give us any.

"Well, within two weeks the medico had another 150 patients. They all had dysentery. Six died. Medicine would have saved them.

"We asked the Japs to take the bodies away.

"They wouldn't do it. We managed to dig their graves on the camp grounds and put the poor fellows away with all the honors we could give them.

NO STOVES TO COOK RICE

"The Japs just didn't pay much attention to us. They appeared only at irregular times. Then they dumped rice within the gates telling us that the rations must last just so long and then they waddled away. But we didn't have any stoves and no fuel was provided.

"We found some petrol tins. We used them for cookpots and burned up whatever would burn to cook the stuff. We tore down the doors of the camp building and broke up tables and chairs. We used canister lids to eat from. Each of us got about two lidfuls daily.

"I can't tell you how I got away, but I wasn't the only one—not by a long shot."

The brutal conditions prevailing at Hongkong are at complete variance with those at Shanghai, according to information in Chungking.

A telegram from an American consular employe received by the United States embassy at Chungking said that all British and American residents are confined merely within the boundaries of the French concession, within which they are permitted complete freedom of movement. This area is approximately ten square miles.

Civil War Predicted If India Wins Freedom

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 13 (AP)—The bloodiest civil war in all history will result if England gives India its freedom, says Dr R. D. Wellon, president of Lucknow Christian College of India.

"Religious fanaticism of the Hindus and Mohammedans, which even under British supervision is the cause of rioting and destruction in the most peaceful times, would be the cause of such civil war," he told a church gathering here yesterday.

NAZIS DENY AIR HERO DIED A CATHOLIC

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—Germany offered a reward of 100,000 marks today for help in arresting the writer of an engraved funeral letter signed by the late Col Werner Moelders, saying the Nazi ace became a Catholic before he died.

The Berlin radio announcing the award, disclosed that the Germans already had sent several persons to concentration camps for circulating the letter "because they knew it was a forgery."

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter concurred with the German assertion that the letter was a forgery, but said the Gestapo considered it dangerous propaganda.

(Moelders, at 28, was a popular hero to the Germans for his official record of 115 fighter planes destroyed in two wars. He was killed at Breslau Nov. 22, 1941, in the crash of a transport plane.

(For 103 air victories in this war and the rest in the Spanish civil war, Hitler ordered a state funeral.)

The letter was addressed to the Roman Catholic priest of Stettin and "spread in many parts of the Reich," said the German broadcast of a DNB statement, official German news agency.

The contents were not divulged, but the radio statement cited teh Stetting clergyman and the Roman Catholic Army bishop as agreeing they were forged.

Not only the Moelders letter, but also the official denial of its authenticity were said to have created widespread talk among German soldiers.

7 Convicted In Spy Ring Get 117 Years

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard today sentenced seven persons—defendants in the nation's first spy trial since the United States entered the war—to a total of 117 years in prison for espionage conspiracy.

Three were given 20 years' imprisonment each; three others, including a woman, 15 years each, and one 12 years.

Judge Goddard, in passing sentence, told the defendants he was "not only punishing you for your treachery," but "warning others like you that such acts will not be tolerated."

WE DON'T DEAL in weather prophecies but we can predict with accuracy that there'll be at least three showers on Saturday, March 21.

The showers will take place at a tea for three socialite brides-to-be, who will be showered with all sorts of useful articles to give them a good start on the happy road to home planning.

The party will be given by Mrs. Robert Meyer (Louise Fitz) and her sister, Maggie Fitz, who will be home from Bradford Junior College for the spring holidays.

Guests of honor will be Martha Leonard, a deb of the past winter who recently became engaged to Mark Sumner Eaton of Boston . . . Dorothy Shapard of New Orleans who flew to Boston last week-end to celebrate the announcement of her engagement to Henry Hornblower, 2d, of Louisburg sq. . . . THE WAR has batted plans for the outdoor sculpture show which the Institute of Modern Art had planned to hold this spring on a city park . . . With the ever present danger of air raids, owners of expensive statuary do not want to lend their treasures for the exhibit . . . nor would the institute expect the city fathers to offer a strategic plot of land under wartime conditions.

To take the place of the exhibit the institute has shifted its emphasis to a spring morale-building program of concerts and lectures . . . Starting the ball rolling will be the opening of a series of lectures on art, to begin Tuesday, March 17, at 5 o'clock . . . That evening members will again gather at the institute for a two-piano recital by Leonard Bernstein and Harold Shapero . . . The afternoon art lectures will follow on successive Tuesdays until May 19 . . . Speakers will include Prof. Rosenberg of the Fogg Art Museum, James S. Plaut, director of the institute; Kenneth J. Conant, Philip Hofer and other experts in the world of art.

Sponsors for the concerts include Mrs. Joel E. Goldthwaite, Mrs. Thomas Metcalf, Mrs. George Fitch, Mrs. Wallace Scudder, Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, Betty Foster, Mrs. MacKinley Helm, Mrs. Edward Thaw, Mrs. K. Schuyler Choate, Mrs. Orson Adams, Mrs. William Ellery, Mrs. A. Kingsley Porter.

SKIERS PLAN BALL AT HOTEL VENDOME

Boston skiers will have an early spring get-together at the Hotel Vendome the evening of March 23. The affair, the Ski Bulletin Ball, will feature square and modern dancing, with prizes and exhibitions to add zest to the program. Miss Delphine Carpenter of the Vendome and Miss Betty Daniel of [illegible] are in charge.

The Masked Jury

SHE HAS HOME

BUT CAN SHE HOLD HUSBAND?

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: Five years ago I married a man 11 years younger than myself. I admit I didn't love him but he had a good position and I wanted a home and security.

Shortly after our marriage I found out he was in love with a girl his own age a girl he had met a few months before our marriage. Although he had met her before our marriage, I guess he had felt obligated to go on with his marriage to me.

They saw each other for two years after our marriage. I did everything to break this up. I went to the girl's home and place of business. Now she has left this city and my husband has told me in very few words that he hates me. He is never home and when he is he is silent. I will never release him.

Am I justified?

HOW THE JURY VOTED
Women:	Yes—1	No—5
Men:	Yes—0	No—6

COLLEGE STUDENT (man): No. A woman has no right to hold a man she doesn't love and never has loved.

COLLEGE STUDENT (woman): No. In fact, I think she has made out a very good case for her husband rather than herself. All she ever wanted was a breadwinner.

GARAGE OWNER: On the basis of her own admission I'd say she is very much in the wrong.

SCHOOLTEACHER: No. Women who marry merely for security have no right to complain when their marriage ends up this way.

BUILDING SUPERVISOR: No. She was wrong in the very beginning by marrying a man that much younger, and she should be big enough to step aside now.

SOCIAL WORKER (woman): No. If she forced that man to marry her out of a seeming obligation she is merely tasting her own medicine.

MACHINIST: No. If she calls herself "Weary" I wonder what she thinks he is after five years of that kind of marriage.

HOUSEWIFE: No. I don't believe in trying to hold a man against his wishes.

THEATER MANAGER: No. Her only reason for holding him couldn't be anything but vengeance since she admits she never loved the man.

TYPIST (woman): Yes. He has no right to run around with another woman.

SALESMAN: No. She can't get anything or give anything but grief, so she better let him go.

TEXTILE WORKER (woman): No. There's nothing left in the marriage to save and, according to her, there wasn't anything there even in the beginning.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To Dorie Miller, 22-year-old colored youth from Texas, who left his messman duties, manned a machine gun for the first time in his life, and gave the Japs a liberal dose of their own lethal medicine during the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor. Young Miller deserves a medal. Congress should give it to him.

EVERY REPORT from the Philippines emphasizes how much the American forces with General MacArthur have been able to do with very few planes.

Having done so much with so little, they properly remind us of what they could do with more planes, particularly with an adequate supply of planes.

There has been no grumbling from the men of Bataan about anything else but the dearth of planes with which they must fight.

They have not complained of hardships and suffering.

They have said nothing about long hours and low pay and bad food and danger and wounds and death—all of which they know intimately.

But interviewers who go among the men of Bataan, among the men still fighting in the fox holes and among the wounded in the hospitals, are invariably asked the question: "When are the PLANES coming?"

General MacArthur's men have accomplished amazing and actually miraculous results with a bare handful of planes, probably less than half a dozen in the recent phases of the Bataan siege.

They have patched up these meager craft after disablement in battle, exchanging parts between usable ships, salvaging equipment from wreckage.

They have even, by most extraordinary ingenuity and resourcefulness, turned these crazy-quilt fighting planes into bombers—probably ludicrous in appearance, but lethal in effect.

In such sparse and makeshift planes, General MacArthur's intrepid pilots have succeeded in a single engagement in sinking thirty thousand tons of Japanese shipping in Subic Bay, liquidating more than five thousand Japanese troops—more than double the American loss of life at Pearl Harbor.

These are tremendous achievements.

Still, General MacArthur is conducting a last-ditch operation until air reinforcements come—a forlorn and hopeless operation if they do NOT come.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE understand the enormous difficulties and hazards of getting planes to General MacArthur.

But they are torn between this understanding and the appeals from Bataan.

The events in the Philippines, which have so greatly thrilled and inspired the American people, have exceeded all predictions and expectations and estimates, as President Roosevelt has said.

They were once considered IMPOSSIBLE events.

By all rules of anticipation, the American and Filipino positions on Bataan could not be held.

By the same rules, complete enemy superiority in the air over Bataan should have made the Subic Bay raid impossible.

By these rules, the men of Bataan undertook an impossible task, and should have been overwhelmed long ago.

So now, when we say it is IMPOSSIBLE to send planes to General MacArthur, we are compelled to remember how surprisingly and successfully the "impossible" has been DONE by this resourceful commander and his valiant men.

The American people, confronted by this record, are not content to do nothing simply because the evidence is strong that nothing can be done.

The American people should therefore encourage their government and their responsible and authoritative military and naval commanders to re-examine the possibility of sending planes to General MacArthur.

The American people most earnestly want to SEND PLANES TO MacARTHUR NOW.

They hope to have an adequate and superior force of planes sent IN TIME.

They insist that all possible planes be sent as soon as possible, with the judgment of what is "impossible" being shaped according to the pattern and example of the heroic American and Filipino defenders of Bataan.

Let us send planes to MacArthur, at least SOME planes NOW and a superior force of planes as fast as they can be built and assembled at the scene of action.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY to serve your country in a necessary task comes with Lieut.-Col. Minthorne W. Reed's announcement that the Boston region of the First Interceptor Command wants civilian volunteers.

Colonel Reed says:

"Although the civilians do not wear uniforms and are not in the public eye, their services are most vital and of tremendous importance."

Boston is an important defense area, as well as one of the world's principal ports.

Furthermore, it is three hundred miles nearer our European enemies than any other American seacoast city.

If an aerial invasion comes, Boston must be prepared for it. There should not be a ruinous repetition of Pearl Harbor.

So, sign up today. You are possibly too old for the Army, Navy and Air Corps. But you may be able to do your bit patriotically and effectively with the Interceptor forces. See if you can. Then do it!

SITUATION discussed above is a puzzling one. However, according to the best authorities, the procedure to follow is to alternate; i. e., to be intense for a period, then to switch to indifference. And then be intense again. This, say the experts, will keep the object of affections "guessing." A most desirable state to have an admirer in, from the feminine viewpoint.

THE BIRTH of another pair of so-called "Siamese twins" was recently reported. The babies died next day. The first "Siamese twins" were not Siamese, but Chinese named Chang and Eng. They were born in 1829 and spent most of their lives as circus sideshow performers. They could run, walk and swim. They married sisters, Adelaide and Sara Shaw. Chang was the father of 10 normal children; Eng of nine . . . Next year will be the 50th anniversary of the comic strip. First comic strip, Hogan's Alley, by R. F. Outcault, appeared in 1893 . . . Add America firsts: The first American woman to wear men's trousers was Dr. Mary Walker. A special act of Congress was necessary to permit her to wear pants without fear of arrest. Dr. Mary was an Army surgeon. America's first torch song singer was "Big Louise" Mitchell of San Francisco, who around the turn of the century was billed as "Three Hundred Pounds of Harmony."

PLEASE NOTE: Leslie Howard has been married 26 years. He calls his wife "Precious" . . . Victor Herbert said of Anna Held: "Her eyes are birds' nests filled with cupids." Of the modern actresses Miriam Hopkins has the most provocative eyes . . . Good old days note: In 1900 the following "Help Wanted" advertisement appeared in the St. Louis Post-dispatch: "Night watchman wanted. Hours 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. Monday to Friday. Saturday off. Hours Sunday 1 p. m. to 6 a. m. Monday. Salary $15 a week." And 723 men wrote and applied for the job!

PASSING BY: Dr. R. W. Case, Western sportsman. Top man of the Arizona Turf Club, which operates a beautiful racecourse in the charming little city of Phoenix. At the Phoenix track all the mutuel clerks wear cowboy hats, and upon receiving a wager say: "Much obliged for your patronage, Pardner. Here's hopin' you win a pile of dough" . . . "Rainmaker" Hatfield. Once engaged in furnishing rain by contract. Some years ago he agreed to furnish rain for San Diego, Cal. He did. It rained so hard that for weeks no trains could enter the city. And the San Diego Exposition had to be postponed for two months. If Mr. Hatfield could furnish snow, perhaps Stalin could use him on the Russian front to keep winter going all year.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Why do coffee shop hostesses always carry a lot of menu cards. Couldn't the menu cards be left on the table? A—The great problem with coffee shop hostesses is to find something to do with their hands. They can't smoke cigarettes on duty, so they carry menu cards. If they didn't do this, they would probably bite their fingernails. Q—Why do most doctors' wives look so sad? A—Couldn't say for certain. But there could be a variety of reasons. Consider the way doctors speak of love. For example, Dr. Cabanes took the following view: "One laughs with the spleen. One grows angry by gall, one loves not with the heart but with the liver."

LOVELY MIRIAM HOPKINS

ASIDES: Recent invention is a lock which will secure both wheels and tires against auto thieves . . . It costs the United States about $15 a week to feed, clothe, equip and pay a private soldier. That is, not counting his weapons and ammunition . . . Country-born males are smarter than city-born males. But country-born females are not nearly as intelligent as city-born girls. However, the country girls are more affectionate and loyal than the big-town females . . . Note man was arrested in Chicago for carrying a chicken in a street car. I thought Chicago was more tolerant than that. I well remember that one Christmas Eve I won a live turkey in a raffle in a Manhattan place of refreshment and took the bird home on the subway.

RECORD:—The American record for size of a breakfast was established in Virginia City, Nev., in 1877, and has yet to be broken. A western historian deals with the record-making event as follows: "One morning in 1877 in Virginia City, Nev., Robert Emmett Murphy walked into a restaurant and said, 'Landlord, I want a snack of breakfast. Let me have a porterhouse steak and onions, some liver and bacon on the side, six fried eggs, a bit of ham, a German pancake, some fried potatoes, a pot of coffee, a half dozen doughnuts and a few waffles.'"

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Everything indicates the dangerous age for a husband is around 55. It has been suggested by a student of matrimony that if the wife of a 55-year-old husband cannot keep an eye on him at all times she should lock him up. Predatory females are always looking for men in their '50's, as they find males of this age most susceptible to feminine wiles. Now don't say we didn't warn you, lady!

Broadway's Voice

JANE PICKENS FINDS NOTED ANCESTOR

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 13 —There is always a story behind the story on Broadway, and for the latest example you might take song star Jane Pickens, and her newest and most devoted beau, Bill Walling. They have already been romantically linked in most of the gossip columns, and almost any evening you can see them playing gin rummy in the Parisian Room of El Morocco. Because Jane is appearing at Loew's State this week, Walling can frequently be found backstage at that temple of entertainment.

So it is no great scoop to relate that on Saturday last Jane and Bill strolled into the Museum of Modern Art on 53d st. and spent a pleasant afternoon inspecting the exhibition of Civil War photographs.

But this is the story behind the story: In 1865, at Fort Fisher, North Carolina, one of the Southern officers in command was Major Abner Crawford. A New York company in the attacking 142d Regiment was commanded by Captain William H. Walling.

Jane Pickens, if you haven't guessed it already, is the granddaughter of Major Crawford. And Bill Walling is the grandson of Captain William H. Walling, of the winning side.

BLANCHE SATCHEL

MISCHA AUER, who is providing the comedy on the same Loew's State bill, had a novel experience the other evening when his colored dresser, Willie Higgins, shuffled up and informed the comedian that he had been offered a new job.

"I've got a chance to go with Arthur Caesar's new show," he said, "and I would like to take it, but I don't like to leave you."

"Go ahead, Willie," Auer urged. "If you think the job is good, grab it, by all means. I'll get another boy."

"That's just it, Mr. Auer," Willie said. "If I leave, you'll put someone else in my place. You see, I ain't sure I'll like my new job, and maybe it'll fold. So would it be all right if I put my stand-in in my place here?"

"Stand-in?" Auer's eyebrows shot up twelve flights.

"Yes, sir, my stand-in," Willie said. "I've got a friend, also a good dresser, who can work for you until I give the word. If the show folds, I come back and he goes. If it's a hit, he can have my job until I come back."

So Mischa Auer is now served by Little Willie Ingram, the other Willie's stand-in.

THE OLD POET'S QUERY: "What is so rare as a day in June?" could best be answered in these parts by the simple sentence, 'A true friendship between two showgirls."

But, just for the records, and to confirm the almost one about an exception to every rule, there is such a friendship. It started way back in the days when these two girls were in their hottest years, continued when they stormed the portals of Broadway world and became two of Ziegfeld's most glorified girls.

Their names were Hazel Forbes and Blanche Satchel. Quite a few years have gone by since they strolled behind the footlights in Mr. Z's elaborately revealing pageants of beads and feathers, but they are still friends. They discuss their problems with each other, and meet or hold lengthy telephone conversations every day.

And they have plenty to talk about these days, too. Because Hazel Forbes, recently divorced from Harry Richman, is being wooed every so ardently by millionaire Max Bamberger, who used to be married to Blanche Satchel, who has since been wooed and won by somebody else!

THERE IS A LITTLE brick building on W. 48th st. that many Broadwayites will tell you is "lucky." In its humble little apartments above the ground floor some of the most celebrated figures in Main Stem history—Damon Runyon and Walter Winchell were two of them—lived modestly in the days when they were struggling for a foothold. Almost everyone who's occupied the semi-shabby quarters has gone on to more palatial places and fatter bankrolls.

Oh, it's a very lucky building—upstairs.

The ground floor is occupied by LaHiff's Tavern, which has been a constant jinx to restaurateurs since the beloved Billy LaHiff died. It's dark now; its last of a succession of owners gave up the ghost a couple of weeks ago, and its waiters and busboys—for years favorites of the Broadway mob—are now serving the "lucky" ex-roomers of the Tavern building at tables in Sherman Billingsley's Stork Club.

Junior Army Learns How to Spot Planes

Attention, JVA Members! The airplane "spotting" course is the next big, thrilling feature to be offered to the Junior Victory Army of New England.

It will be a complete and official series of lessons to teach you how to tell one flying machine from another; how to detect the difference between an American Army pursuit plane and an American Navy patrol bomber; how to distinguish between a German dive bomber and a Jap fighter.

The course will be printed in the Daily Record and the Evening American beginning Monday with an important introduction in the Boston Advertiser this coming Sunday.

Prepared especially for recruits of the Junior Victory Army of New England, it will prove as interesting, as entertaining and as educational to adults as it will to children.

SAVE LESSONS

The plane identification series promises to become one of the most popular [illegible] Victory [illegible] have [illegible] letters to headquarters that they desired such instruction.

So here it comes. It will include pictures, silhouettes, drawings and sketches and complete information on all phases of plane "spotting."

Get your scrapbooks ready, JVA members! Be prepared to clip out and paste in all the lessons and their illustrations. Study hard and memorize all the data. Then when you gaze into the sky at an airplane and your companion asks "what's that?" you'll be able to say:

"That? Why it's a Curtiss P10D. I know. I studied the JVA plane 'spotting' course."

Don't miss the introduction in the Sunday Advertiser this Sunday.

It's a part of the course and you'll need it as one of the lessons.

New York City has 624 WPA musicians and [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible]

In case of trouble the city will put two trumpet players on each bridge, a string trio at every airport and a harpist on the spire of the Empire State.

Manhattan's music is supported by the taxpayers of every state in the Union through a kindly federal government which is dropping $940,106 into the bass horn this year.

Sponsors of the project wish it to be known that it is no leaf-raking project.

You cannot rake leaves with a slide trombone.

The WPA music project is a hangover from the good old days of the depression. It supplied the fiddles to which the taxpayers danced.

It is a necessity like a sharp knife for soft butter.

We are arranging Opus 68 for the massed bands of the WPA. This is the one entitled "Are We Complacent Dear?"

Thought for the day: swing bands will win the war.

Hit-Run Cab Driver Hunted

Victim of a hit-run taxicab, William Ahern, 51, of Main st., Charlestown, was seriously injured in front of his home today.

Witnesses said the cab driver halted after striking Ahern, backed his cab behind the victim and gazed on his unconscious form, then fled down a side street.

Ahern was taken to City Hospital in a police ambulance and his name placed on the danger list. He suffered a compound fracture of one leg and a possible fracture of the skull.

Police were given a partial description of the taxi.

U. S. IGNORES OWN RUBBER SUPPLY, CLAIM

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 13 (INS) — Charging that the government's lack of knowledge concerning available rubber sources is "incomprehensible," Elliot E. Simpson, director of the Drexsage Rubber Co., New York, today issued a statement asserting that hundreds of thousands of tons of various types of rubber can be obtained quickly in Latin-America and Africa.

Simpson's statement also claimed that a Florida planter has discovered a secret process for developing hybrid hevea rubber which may eventually make the United States entirely self-sufficient in that vital product.

"The Mexican government is now seeking to obtain the secret process for developing this hybrid hevea rubber," Simpson said. "The American planter J. Andrew Tatro, of Tampa, Fla., has not accepted the Mexican government's offer because he wants his discovery to be developed 'under the American flag.'

PROCESS TESTED

"His secret process was tested by the Goodyear Plantation Co. of Akron, O., in April, 1940. The test proved that this man's hybrid hevea rubber is as good as the standard grade of crude rubber. "It can be provided for three cents per pound at a yield of 800 pounds per acre. We paid the British 18 cents per pound for rubber before the outbreak of the Pacific war, and we have now agreed to pay Brazil 39 cents per pound.

"The American government apparently has never heard of this man or his rubber plant. It's time somebody in the government started learning about rubber.

SAYS SUPPLY AMPLE

"A survey of the sources of rubber which are available to the United States at present shows conclusively that the supply is ample to meet the civilian as well as the defense needs for the duration of the war.

"Mr. Henderson (federal price administration), in his recent statement on the rubber shortage, warned the American people against 'holding out any hope of getting substantial amounts of rubber in the near future from . . . the Guayule plant.' Somebody misled the poor man. There are millions of acres of Guayule now available in Mexico.

"The apparent lack of knowledge of the government concerning available sources of rubber is incomprehensible. One cannot help but wonder whether it is ignorance or a deliberate attempt to perpetuate the British and Dutch rubber monopolies after the war."

This Is War--30 Politics Out, F.D. Decrees

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt told a press conference today that this is a war and politics is out.

He said his remarks applied to Congress as well as the press. We read too much politics in the papers these days and these articles talk in terms of the past, he commented.

Mr. Roosevelt made that remark when asked whether he thought there could be a greater concentration on the war effort by political groups, newspapers and others.

To a question as to whether his remarks were "also true of the cabinet," the Chief Executive responded that he found little political implications in any action taken by cabinet members. He said that whenever he sees any such implication, and this is in pretty rare cases, he steps on it with both feet.

Allies Invade Siam, Battle Near Jap Base

LONDON, March 13 (INS)—A Bangkok radio report relayed to London said today that an "Allied army" penetrated 100 miles into Thailand and engaged Thai forces near Chiengmai. The report claimed the invaders were defeated after a two-hour battle.

Chiengmai is the northern base of Jap and Thai forces which have been preparing for a thrust into northern Burma. United Nations lines in that area were last reported manned by Chinese troops.

WABAN DOCTOR FINED $25 FOR ASSAULTING NEWTON FIREMAN

Found guilty of assault and battery on a Newton fireman during a squabble about settlement of auto accident damage, Dr. David W. Sherwood, 44, of Avalon rd., Waban, was fined $25 in Middlesex Criminal court today by Judge Lewis R. Goldberg.

Thomas J. Kelly, Jr., told the jury Dr. Sherwood punched him after commenting:

"In view of your name, I didn't expect you to pay anyway."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Samuel Cohen, in his address to the jury, said:

"There's been something said here about the Kellys not paying. We know of one Kelley . . . Colin P. Kelley, Jr. . . . who paid with his life."

Dr. Sherwood said Kelly called him vile names and advanced toward him threateningly. He said he struck Kelly with his open hand.

The defendant had appealed a lower court fine of $50.

Exclusive — MRS. ROOSEVELT SAYS:

NYA Work in Films

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Thursday—Last evening was most fascinating. Some years ago, young Mr. and Mrs. Dana Lamb showed the President some pictures of a remarkable trip which they took along the coast of Mexico in a covered canoe they had made themselves. Last night they came to show us the pictures of another trip through the heaviest jungle country in Central America.

They lived with a lost tribe while they searched for a lost city. Their supply of films ran out, so they came back to civilization, heard of the war and came home. I am sure that some day they will go back to explore this fascinating country.

The marvel to me is that a woman can ever seem herself to endure the discomforts of such a trip and yet look as rested and fragile as ever on her return to civilization. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb decided to be explorers when they were youngsters in school together, and ever since their marriage they have carried out their dreams.

Some of the pictures of Central America are so beautiful you long to see this country, though I am afraid the insects and snakes would keep me away.

We also saw a film of some of the National Youth Administration defense training shops. This seemed to me exceptionally good and I hope it will be shown in commercial theaters, because I doubt whether many people know how very thorough and varied is this training, open to both boys and girls.

[illegible] the Girl Scouts [illegible] I met me with a box of [illegible] in commemoration of their 30th birthday. Later a Mr. Chatterjee, a very interesting man from India, came to talk to me about [illegible] an army of pacifists militantly to fight for peace. I am afraid I was rather discouraging, for it is rather difficult for me to see how this could be done at the present time.

I have just been told that the defense bond plan used by Northwestern University, originated here at Georgetown University, and that the executive secretary of the Georgetown Alumni Ass'n was called to the Treasury Department to help other organizations to acquaint themselves with the plan. Whoever was originally responsible, it seems to me such a good idea that I hope it will be used by many organizations.

Know Army Insignia?

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEEKMAN

Are you "in the know" when it comes to distinguishing between the various insignia that signify the rank of Army officers?

You can easily identify the insignia of rank that officers wear on each shoulder loop of the coat, the overcoat, and the olive drab shirt when it is worn without a coat.

Here they are:

Second Lieut.	[illegible] bar
First Lieut.	[illegible] bar
Captain	[illegible] bars
Major	[illegible] of
Lieut. Col	Silver leaf
Colonel	Silver [illegible] eagle
Brig.-Gen.	One silver star
Maj.-Gen.	Two silver stars
Lieut.-Gen.	Three silver stars
General	Four silver stars

Non-commissioned officers wear chevrons on the [illegible] between the elbow and [illegible] shoulder. In [illegible]

Sergeant—Three.
Corporal—Two
Private, First Class—One

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—And your nails will be healthier if you use a nail brush as Dorothy Morris demonstrates. Gentle brushing around the cuticle removes dried particles and helps preserve your manicure. Arline Gould gives some fine "conservation" hints for manicure aids.

'CONSERVATION' HINTS TO AID YOUR MANICURE

By ARLINE GOULD

A NAIL AUTHORITY tells us that one patriotic thing all of us can do is to learn how to get the most out of every polish bottle. While hoarding is a boost to Hitler, says she, so is waste.

Conservation of nail aids brings to the light of day a great many little tips that you might well have used before . . . when you look back on the evaporated, spilled or permanently "sealed" (remember when the bottle cap stuck to the glass thread and the strongest hands in the house couldn't unscrew it?) bottles of lacquer that strewed your home-manicure career!

Here are conservation suggestions:

Drain brush against neck of bottle before using, to guard against waste.

Wipe outside neck of bottle with tissue before screwing the cap back on. If neck is allowed to clog, the cap will not screw on tightly, thus causing evaporation.

Keep polish bottles in a cool spot, and upright.

Buff nails before applying polish. It smooths the nail surface so polish will cling better. A base, a coat of your pet shade, and a finisher of a liquid "polish shield" is the combination that gives longest wear.

To remove polish remover. Saturate cotton and press it against the nail for several minutes. Do this with each nail before you begin the actual job of removing. The "soak" of the remover should be enough to complete job.

Use cuticle oil or cream daily to keep nails in A-1 condition.

Wear nails fairly long now, just enough to protect the fingertips, but no longer. File in shallow rather than pointed ovals.

"Feather-tip" your polish by removing a hairline at the nail tip. And with the "polish shield" liquid over-tip the topcoat by bringing the colorless protective over the edge and down the under side of the nail tip.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

IT IS NOT SO LONG AGO that bread-making was one of the important routines of every well regulated household. How enticing was the yeasty fragrance that filtered from the kitchen on baking day! How good was the warm crust whenever coaxing and cajoling could get it for you, hours before the bread was to appear at the table!

Now that bakers' bread is good, inexpensive and convenient, lucky is the family that knows the pleasant smell of breadmaking, the fun of begging for a fresh, warm slice. Home-made bread is still a treat, and it is worth your while to bake even an occasional batch. You can choose kinds that bakers don't ordinarily sell, and you can use the unrefined foods which are rich in minerals and vitamins.

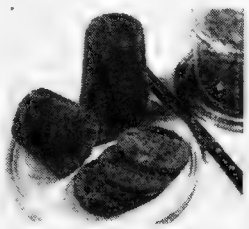
BRAN BROWN BREAD

1 cup all-bran
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
½ cup raisins
1 tbsp. molasses
½ cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 tsp. soda
¼ tsp. salt

Combine all-bran, milk, raisins, molasses and sugar. Sift flour with soda and salt. Add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Fill greased cans 2-3 full; cover tightly and steam for three hours. Makes 2 loaves (1-lb. cans).

MAPLE CORN BREAD

1 1-3 cups flour
2-3 cup cornmeal
3 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1-3 cup maple syrup



STEAMED All-Bran Brown Bread

¼ cup melted shortening
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Sift dry ingredients; add the syrup, shortening and eggs. Stir until well mixed, but do not beat. Turn into a greased pan and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven (425 deg. F.). Makes 8 squares.

ORANGE BREAD

1½ cups sifted flour
2½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ cup minced, candied orange peel
2 tbsp. shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
¼ cup orange juice

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt; stir in candied orange peel. Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, creaming until well mixed, and beat in egg. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beating well after each addition; stir in orange juice. Turn into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 to 60 minutes. Makes 1 loaf, 8x4 inches.

NUT BREAD

3 cups sifted flour
4½ tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
½ cup sugar
1 cup chopped nuts
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk
¼ cup shortening, melted

Mix and sift dry ingredients; stir in nuts. Combine eggs and milk, and add to flour mixture, stirring only until well mixed; add shortening. Turn into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Makes 1 loaf, 9x5x3 inches.

ORANGE MARMALADE BREAD

3 cups sifted flour
5 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup finely chopped nut meats
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
1 tbsp. grated orange rind
¾ cup orange marmalade

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Stir in nut meats. Combine well-beaten egg, milk, orange rind and marmalade, and stir in dry ingredients. Mix well. Bake in greased 8x4-inch loaf pan in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 1¼ hours. Cool before cutting. Makes 1 loaf.

Fashion

LILLY DACHE believes that there is one feminine instinct that cannot be downed, war or no war, and however grim the headlines—the urge to walk out on Easter morning with a gay new bonnet. Disregarding period influence and with no intent to predict future fashion trends, her collection of Easter millinery embodies this feeling . . . pretty, prettier, prettiest! Here's a tiny natural milan straw sailor with upturned brim and two full-blown roses shedding flattery on the face, worn straight on the head and enveloped with light green chenille veil, to make the softest, most becoming, spring-like haze of light around your face.—ANNICE BRINK.

SLIGHTLY FLARING TUNIC TOP RELIEVES SLIM GOWN

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SLIM AND SHAPELY lines are important in spring evening styles, and often hard to wear. To ease with a moderately flaring tunic top is suggested by leading designers. Dresses with tunics that are about knee length are very slender looking and at the same time they are easy to wear for most women who have to worry about highlighting their hiplines.

Aid For Navy Widows

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

IT SEEMS TO ME that these widows who lost their husbands in the Pearl Harbor disaster should be taken care of, as well as their children, by the United States government. Certainly they are as worthy of pensions as the widows of men lost in the first World War.

A SYMPATHIZER.

The question of pensioning these widows will undoubtedly be taken up by Congress.

According to the latest accounts, 60 widows and a Gold Star mother took aptitude tests for positions at Lockheed and Vega Aircraft Corps. Navy Chaplain J. E. Johnson said there are 160 Pearl Harbor widows here who are expected to seek jobs.

Mrs. Fern Evans, whose husband, W. C. Evans, chemist's mate third class, was lost in action, said:

"We feel that we should do all we can to carry on the work in the cause for which our husbands so nobly gave their lives at Pearl Harbor."

BUD ABBOTT AND LOU COSTELLO
"Ride 'Em Cowboy"

Clyde McCoy, Sugar Blues Orchestra at RKO Boston

Companioning the third and final week's showing of the latest Abbott-Costello film hit, "Ride 'Em, Cowboy," starting today at the RKO Boston is the all-new stage show featuring Clyde McCoy and his Sugar Blues orchestra, plus some [illegible]

McCoy and his popular orchestra are known to countless radio fans, because of excellent arrangements and original rhythms which the trumpet-playing maestro has made a trade mark. His musical outfit, [illegible] popular baritone, Chick and Lee presenting a comedy hit, "Nit Wits of Nonsense," and Bob Howard, [illegible] ambassador of rhythm," offering various interpretations of modern music climaxed by an imitation of an old-time player-piano, are others on the bill.

In "Ride 'Em, Cowboy," the screen's outstanding comedy team invade the West with riotous results. Supporting players are Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, the Merry Macs, Ella Fitzgerald, the Hi-Hatters, the Buckaroo Band and the Ranger Chorus of 19 Miss Fitzgerald singing a special arrangement of "A Tisket A Tasket," is well worth your listening.

Coming to Trans-Lux Screen

With the Reds, 1,350,000 strong, pushing back the Nazi armies on three fronts and putting them in their worst plight of the entire winter campaign, "Our Russian Front," the new Soviet-made picture to be previewed Tuesday evening on Trans-Lux screen, has absorbing timeliness.

Made under the auspices of Russian War Relief, Inc., "Our Russian Front" is a compilation of shots taken on Soviet soil expertly pieced together under auspices of Russian War Relief, Inc., by Lewis Milestone and Joris Ivens.

Scenes showing roaring dive bombers dropping their huge bombs on military targets are followed by the camera eye from the time they leave the plane until they hit their mark; skies filled with war planes; the ground covered with tanks followed by the infantry in their attacks.

Interspersed between this swift movement are scenes of quiet intensity . . . preparations for new raids and attacks, little children as gleaners in the wheatfields, as lookouts for parachute troops from the blue skies, as helpers to their parents and elder brothers and sisters in all kinds of work.

The film, representing the work of a half-dozen USSR cameramen, is said to rank with Britain's magnificent "Target For Tonight" as an actual combat documentary.

PAULETTE GODDARD ROMPS IN SLICK, SWIFT COMEDY ON MET'S SCREEN

Smart Dialogue

"THE LADY HAS PLANS," Paramount's Paulette Goddard-Ray Milland co-starring comedy with Roland Young, Albert Dekker and Margaret Hayes. Directed by Sidney Lanfield from screen play by Harry Tugend based on Leo Pirinski's story. At the Met.

By PEGGY DOYLE

As a swan-song before Manhattan's famed Metropolitan Opera Company moves in with its high-priced canaries and champagne for a 10-day engagement the Metropolitan Theater is giving its patrons a special treat in the way of a spy comedy larded with laughs and beglamoured by Paulette Goddard.

With that beautiful screen vixen Paulette, in the titlerole of "The Lady Has Plans" it is hardly too-expected that they have needed the traditional Mata Hari plot with plenty of socko comedy. Yes, it has an angle and the angle is all to the good of your funny-bone and those midsection guffaws.

As a spy-siren who doesn't know her own power, Miss Goddard is immensely entertaining, except to Milland, Ro'and Young and Albert Dekker.

Milland, European radio commentator for an American broadcasting company, was expecting a smart legman when a cable announced the arrival of his new assistant, Sidney Royce. Instead he was confronted by "Legs" Goddard, a dazzling blend of big, comehither eyes surrounded by a little bit of girl in a far-flung, snazzy hotel suite dominated by trunkloads of glamour-clothes.

To add to his confusion, Paulette insisted on thanking him for the suite and the wardrobe and insisting upon getting down to business. Getting down to business was Young's and Dekker's idea, too, they being respectively, high-powered British and Berlin representatives.

In succession and definitely, Paulette ordered them all out, after deciding she had never been so insulted in her life and wondering what there was about the place that suggested strip-tease demands from complete strangers.

• • •

When the lady of the title learns the why of these insistent international invitations, she makes some plans of her own. Milland, who also is quick, has caught on, too, as well as been caught by the pretty angler.

It all adds up to slick, swift comedy, with the dialogue brighter than the gleaming buttons on a new lieutenant's uniform. Milland, always a smoothie with a masculine quality that has found favor with the distaff side, was never better than in his present reluctant-romeo role.

Roland Young's clipped British with convenient ammo as it would loosely wrinkle its stiff upper lip to the merest hint. Albert Dekker Baton Von Kemp is a

THE MET'S Anna Kaskas, who will be heard during the forthcoming Metropolitan Opera Company's engagement at the Metropolitan Theater in Mozart's "The Magic Flute," a week from tonight. The 10-day engagement opens next Thursday evening.

Flying Courses For Schoolboys

Thousands of New England schoolboys, including many of junior high school age, will soon have the opportunity to take pre-flight aviation courses, preparatory to training as pilots, according to plans being considered by federal officials and foremost educators.

State commissioners, superintendents from many Massachusetts cities and college aeronautics professors met with Commr. of Education Walter F. Downey of Massachusetts to hear Robert H. Hinckley, assistant secretary of commerce for air, outline the program, due to start May 1.

Oddities In the News

BURNED PRUNES

COLUMBUS, March 13 (AP)—A fire alarm sent two pump companies, a hook-and-ladder truck and an assistant chief dashing to a West Side home

They found a pan of scorched prunes'

If you think the housewife was embarrassed, consider Fireman Ralph Lombard, who arrived on one pumper.

It was his house.

SAME OLD PROFESSOR

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 13 (AP)—A college professor, who writes stories, has had many of them come back but none quite as fast as the latest

He sent it off to New York, confident it would sell. The next day he found the story in his mail box. He had enclosed the manuscript in an envelope intended for use in returning it, in case it didn't click

REAL MAN OF AFFAIRS

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 13 (AP)—Social security case workers don't always write exactly what they mean. For instance these excerpts from Missouri records

"Until a year ago this applicant delivered ice and was a man of affairs."

"Woman and house neat, but bare."

"This family is extremely cultured. Something should be done about their condition."

CARTER INK CO. EMPLOYES AID BOMBER DRIVE

SETTS BOMBER editor (5 Winthrop sq., Boston) that they wanted to boost their pledge from the previously announced figure of $10,000 to $30,000, making an increase of $20,000 in their promised bond purchases.

The total contributed to date now reaches $21,178,331.

That huge amount of money will buy lots of BOMBERS but not near enough to insure FINAL AND COMPLETE VICTORY.

During World War I, Americans rallied behind their government with the inspiring slogan: "Give 'til it hurts."

That's the spirit we must have today in face of the tremendous forces ranged against the democratic nations fighting to preserve the Four Freedoms.

When you've bought ONE BOND, start saving to buy ANOTHER, and ANOTHER. Only in that unselfish and patriotic way will Uncle Sam obtain enough money to buy the BOMBERS and other weapons needed to annihilate the Axis.

Wife Divorces Steinbeck

SALINAS, Cal., March 13 (AP)—Novelist John Steinbeck's 12-year marriage has ended in divorce, with Mrs. Carol Henning Steinbeck blaming "too many women—one in Hollywood, particularly."

Steinbeck's poetess-wife has obtained an interlocutory decree here, charging mental cruelty.

Testifying briefly before Superior Judge H. G. Jorgensen, she told a story of loneliness amid luxury paid for by the "Grapes of Wrath," Steinbeck's biggest seller.

The court approved a property settlement under which Steinbeck agreed to pay his wife $111,992.10 cash and more than $100,000 in various bonds and shares.

They were married Jan. 12, 1930, in Los Angeles, and separated last April.

17,031 Australian Casualties in Malaya

SYDNEY, Australia, March 13 (AP)—Australian casualties in the Malayan campaign, including the defense of Singapore, totaled 17,031, it was reported today. This figure included 287 officers and men killed and 16,744 missing.

Australian casualties in the Middle East were put at 13,335, including prisoners of war.

'Defense Industry' All Done, Factory Now 'Attack Plant'

BRISTOL, Pa., March 13 (AP)—Fleetwings, Inc., aeronautical manufacturers, today removed itself from the "defense" industry as painters took the words out of factory signs and inserted "attack plant."

Company President Frank De Ganahl said, "Attack is the order of the day, not defense. We are attacking production more vigorously each day so that our armed forces can attack the enemy soon and decisively."

U. S. Has Shoe Store for Jap Monkey Men

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Distributed by International News Service

From now on America is running a shoe store for Japs who want to die with their boots on.

The monkey men are playing leap-frog with the archipelagos. They are just like their beetles that migrate in a bunch of cherry blossoms.

Those cherry trees will soon blossom on the Maryland side of the Potomac. On the Virginia side there is the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Both of them are reminders that there is a boom in unfinished business.

And we don't close that shoe store until all our customers have been fitted.

Brown Will Outshine Ironman Ryba

SARASOTA, Fla., March 13—If Mace Brown were the least bit superstitious, he might have balked at making his first start for the Red Sox in this Friday the 13th game with the Washington Senators here today.

But the 200-pound corn-fed Iowan is so happy to be here that he would pitch Saturday the 14th and Sunday the 15th as well as today if Joe Cronin but gave him the nod.

MACE BROWN

'Best break I ever got, joining this club," said Mace this morning. "Well, perhaps not the best break, but certainly the best I've got in years."

Mace told his story. He was one of those football-baseball athletes who were declared ineligible for varsity competition when University of Iowa was "purged" back in 1930. He was only 20 at the time, had little baseball background and had a horrible time getting started.

His early years in baseball recall those of Mike Ryba, Dick Newsome and Oscar Judd. Yes, like that trio, he signed with the Cardinals chain gang.

After being pushed around in the bushes for several years, Brown found himself at Kansas City in '33.

* * *

Won 55 Games for Pirates

"Roger Peckinpaugh had the club at the time," Brownie recalls. "He had a bunch of veterans like Wilcy Moore and Slim Harris, and the younger fellows didn't get a chance to work.

"I had been married a few years before, was getting nowhere fast, and my wife was urging me to quit baseball and settle down.

"Then I found myself traded to Tulsa. I was delighted.

"'Let me give baseball one more shot; I urged my wife. If I don't click I'll go to work in the Oklahoma oil fields, and forget baseball'.

"She agreed," Brownie went on, "and so I took off for Tulsa. I got the work I needed there. Won my first 12 games in a row. Won 19 in all from June 1 to Sept. 6. That season decided my future. I would remain in baseball."

Brownie came up to Pittsburgh the next year, and proceeded to become the outstanding relief man in the National League. He spent six seasons with the Pirates, winning 55 and losing 45, mostly in relief roles. In 1938 he pitched in the All-Star game with the A. L.

Folks think Mike Ryba worked a lot of ball games for the Sox last year. Mike did, in truth—40. Yet Big Brownie pitched in 47 games for the Pirates in '36, 50 in '37, 51 in '38, 47 in '39 and 48 in '40. He has the durability of the famed "Iron Man" McGinnity.

Brooklyn, eager to cop the '41 pennant, paid $20,000 to the Pirates for Brownie last year. He was with them from April 21 to Sept. 1, and although he won 3, lost 2 and took part in 4 other winning games, the Dodgers did not cut him in on their World Series swag. And so he was divorced from the organization, and allowed to make a trade for himself.

Now here he is, eager and willing to do all he can to help the club. He won't be 32 until June. He figures he ought to be at his peak the next few years, despite the fact that he did an awful lot of pitching in his six years with the Pirates.

"Honestly, my arm never felt better," he said. "I usually have trouble with it in the spring, but not this year.

"I'll make Joe Cronin happy he gave me this chance before the season's over. I've yet to have a bad season in the majors, and certainly I'm not old enough to lose my stuff. Look at Grove, Wyatt and Ryba, for instance.

"All I need is enough work to keep my curve ball under control, and I believe I'm going to get it with the Sox."

That's Mike Ryba's relief partner, fans. As willing a fellow as old Mike himself. And from the boosts we've heard Paul Waner and Danny MacFayden give his curve ball, he'll outshine Mike as a relief hurler. If so, the Sox have picked up a gem for the asking.

QUINN SILENCE WEAKENS HOLDOUT EDDIE MILLER

By JACK CONWAY

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 13—Eddie Miller, shortstop of the Braves and ace holdout, told me today he would welcome a wire from Bob Quinn asking him to talk terms at the training camp of the Tribe at Sanford Fla.

"I would rather play baseball than do anything else," said Miller. "I have been waiting to hear from Bob Quinn and when I do I shall go to Sanford to discuss terms with him."

I asked Miller what his salary differences with the Braves were.

"I received a contract which gave me a one-third cut from the salary I received in 1941," said Miller.

"Quinn told me when he submitted the contract that he did not make a practice of slashing the salaries of ball players, but that this year presented unusual conditions and that he must recognize them. I realize I did not do as well in 1941 as I had done the previous year up to the time I suffered a broken leg, but I do feel that I did not rate such a big reduction in pay."

I learned from an authoritative source that Miller was paid $15,000 in 1941 which would mean that the Braves wish to sign him on for $10,000 this year.

CUBS OFFERED $135,000

Over the years Quinn has not made a practice of cutting the salaries of ball players. He has felt that if a player was not worth what he was being paid that it was better to trade or sell him to some other club rather than to ask him to accept a cut in pay. The war has changed all this, and Quinn feels Miller should take less money than he received a year ago.

The Chicago Cubs offered $135,000 for Miller late in the winter of 1941. Miller naturally knew of this offer. Rather than have a dissatisfied ball player on his hands Quinn asked Miller how much he thought the Cubs would pay him. Eddie set a value of

New Bedford Tests Rindge Tech Quint

Defending champion Rindge Tech and New Bedford, pre-tourney favorite will meet in the opening semi-final round contest in the 17th annual Tech Basketball Tournament Class "A" competition at Tufts Cousens Gymnasium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Solly Neehtem's Chelsea Red Devils and Attleboro's battling game-cocks will meet in the second semi-final game, this one to start at 8:30 o'clock.

Rindge barged its way into the semi-finals at the expense of Lynn Classical. The Teckers were forced to go into overtime to defeat Classical 31-27.

Warren Lewis and Frank Pagliarani popped baskets in the extra session to give Rindge a hard earned victory.

RAIDERS CRUSH PEABODY

Russ Burns had knotted the count for Classical with but one minute, 25 seconds left in the final scheduled period. Classical lost Leroy Savory, rangy Negro center and football ace on fouls in the late part of the third period. Savory's departure was a rugged blow to the Lynn cause.

New Bedford had little trouble tripping Brookline, 36-29. Attleboro waged a grand uphill battle and nipped bitter rival Taunton at the tape, 30-29.

Chelsea's Red Devils, completing in their 14th Tech tournament, crushed Peabody, 40-18. Co-captains Irv Goldenberg and Frank Letizia were immense as the Red Devils raced rings around Peabody posting the most impressive win of the program.

RINDGE VS. CHELSEA

Coach Arrigo Latenzi's Rockland "Rockets" and Newburyport's high scoring unit were to meet in the first semi-final round game of class "B" competition this afternoon starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Braintree, "B's," defending champion, was to meet Lexington in the second afternoon game, this one starting at 3.30 o'clock.

Rockland made the semi-finals at Franklin's expense Wednesday afternoon. On that same card, Newburyport buried Belmont. Braintree banged its way out of the quarter-final round of play at Chemsford's expense Wednesday evening. Lexington fanned Framingham on the same card.

The Class "B" championship contest will be played tomorrow afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock. Class "A" championship—Rindge Tech and Chelsea are favored to meet in the final—will be settled tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

SKI PATROL NEGLECTED

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

The sport of skiing has been made safe largely through the efforts of the National Ski Patrol System. Nevertheless, during the season of 1941-42, only 800 odd skiers have supported the work of this great organization by subscribing one dollar each for associate membership.

The organization, therefore, has to gravely consider as to whether or not the skiing public appreciates and values its work sufficiently to insure its continued existence. It is a purely volunteer outfit and is entirely dependent upon public support for the income which is necessary to carry on the Ski Patrol program

It was back in March, 1938, that the whole thing started. While at the National Races at Stowe, Vt., Roger Langley, president of the National Ski Ass'n, and C. Minot Dole, a member of the Amateur Ski Club of New York, saw that something should be done for providing first aid facilities and care at ski slopes on a national basis.

STARTED WITH $50

Up to that time, except at a few isolated resorts, no provision had been made to take care of not only minor accidents, but, further, major accidents which might have serious consequences. As a result, the National Ski Patrol System was launched.

With a borrowed fund of $50 as the initial treasury, the energetic Mr. Dole enlisted the aid of Bob Livermore of Boston, A. T. Sands of Chicago, "Mike" O'Neil of Salt Lake City, Barney McNab of Portland, Oregon, and Dr. Don Tresidder of Yosemite. Through the help of the American Red Cross, who gave the Standard Twenty-Hour First Aid Course to patrolmen, plus a ten-hour winter first aid course, fully trained patrolmen began to appear on the ski slopes. The organizational work was carried on in Mr. Dole's home during the first two years.

ALL SKIERS BENEFIT

The National Ski Patrol System was instrumental in the organization of the 87th Infantry Mountain Regiment at Fort Lewis, Washington, last November. The system is now co-operating with the War Department in passing upon applications of skiers who wish to join this regiment.

In spite of the war, some hundreds of thousands of people are skiing today. All are urged to help keep the organization going, so that there will always be members of the Ski Patrol System available on slopes everywhere, thus cutting accidents to a minimum.

140-Foot Runway To Aid Warmerdam In 16-Foot Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13 (AP) — Olympic Club officials cleared a 140-foot runway for Cornelius Warmerdam today and hoped the pole vaulting ace might soar to 16 feet in tonight's indoor track and field meet.

Warmerdam cleared 15 feet, 7 ¼ inches in the East recently with a borrowed pole.

BILL COWLEY
Drops Stick for Whistle

Bruins' Cowley Turns Referee

Bill Cowley, Bruins' injured center will make his first appearance as a referee this week-end when he takes over the whistle-tooters job in the National A. H. A. tourney which starts at the Garden tomorrow.

Cowboy Bill is expected back in Bruin livery on next Tuesday night and the referee's work will keep his legs in condition.

Arbiter Cowley will have his hands full. Four games are on the schedule which gets going at 12:30 p. m. The Junior Olympics and the Springfield Braves starting the shooting. They will alternate periods with Mt. Hood and the Berlin, N. H., hockey team.

At approximately 3:30 p. m. two more games will start. The Manhattan Arrows play the Lewiston Cyclones in the first half, while the Swampscott Crescents tangle with the Lewiston Le Montagnards.

New Haven Players Bolster Olympics

Two new recruits appeared at the Olympics' last practice and both showed enough ability to warrant them a tryout in game competition.

The latest additions are Al Dupre and George Blake and they will see action against the Washington Eagles at the Garden on Saturday evening.

Dupre and Blake have just completed a season of fine play with the High Standard team of New Haven. Dupre is a left wing and a center, while Blake patrols the right lane.

They recently played at the Arena in the National A. A. U. tourney, and although their club was turned back by Boston College in the first game of the tournament by a 3-2 count, these two made a distinct impression.

The two New Haven boys join the team at a most opportune time. The Bostonians will have to get along without the services of Ray Chaisson tomorrow and Sunday afternoon. The Cambridge youth suffered a painful hip injury last week end and he has not recovered enough to answer the bell against Washington.

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Joe Falcaro, nationally known New York bowler, rolled a 300-game, the 57th of his career, during an exhibition which opened a new bowling establishment here last night.

ALL KRAUTS GET GOALS

OTTAWA, March 12 (AP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force flyers qualified for the Ottawa and district Amateur Hockey Ass'n. finals tonight by defeating the Hull Volants, 9-5, to win the Ottawa senior city league's best-of-seven playoffs series with four straight victories.

The flyers, first service team in history to win the Ottawa senior championship, will meet either the Cornwall Colts or the Perth Crescents in a best-of-three playoff for the district championship. The winner will advance into the Dominion playdowns.

The former Boston Kraut line of Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart, each came through with one goal for the flyers. Bauer scored the Flyers' second goal of the night unassisted. Dumart counted in the second period assisted by Bauer and Schmidt, and Schmidt, with the aid of the other two, tallied in the third

English Qualifies 35 For Reggies

English high school, placing 35 men, loomed as heavy favorite to capture the 34th annual regimentals at the East Armory, after the second and final running trials.

Despite being two points behind leader Memorial, which has a total of 33, English, with their large list of finalists, shou'd not have much trouble with the Roxbury sector.

The points and number of qualifiers for today are Memorial 33 points, 10 qualifiers; English 31 points, 35 qualifiers; Latin School 28 points, 21 qualifiers; Mechanic Arts 20 1-3 points, 16 qualifiers.

KILPATRICK LAUDS YALE'S SPORTS PLAN

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, March 13 (INS)—Ordered to active duty "at a port of embarkation," Big Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, entered today on an extended tour of military duty.

The former All American end, whose management brought the Garden up from financial despair after the death of Tex Rickard, has "no idea" as to the scope of his coming duties. All he knows is that he felt an overpowering itch to get back into action, and toward that end he appeared at the armored force maneuvers last November in North Carolina.

The colonel came back from North Carolina howling mad at those who spoke of the bad morale of the draft army. He said at the time that the country had the makings of the best army in the world, and now, as he starts for active duty, he's more convinced than ever.

ALWAYS ON TOP

"American boys make the best soldiers for the same reason that they make the best athletes," Kilpatrick said, as he began the job of clearing a desk cluttered with the affairs of hockey, boxing, basketball and all the other myriad interests of the Garden.

"Year in and year out there isn't a sport in the world in which an American boy isn't the top man. They're tops because they not only know how to take orders, they know how to think for themselves. They're built better, mentally and physically."

"A football coach doesn't run a football team," the former Iron-Man end continued. "He points out the way, he teaches the rudiments, he gives them the skeleton of plays—and the boys do the rest.

YALE'S DOING RIGHT

"The main thing that sports teaches an American boy is the knack of being able to take the bumps. That's the thing that makes first class soldiers. And that's why I believe the President was wise the other night when he called for full sports programs for the duration.

"Personally, I think we should have even larger sports programs than we have had. I think we've got to get the fans down out of the grandstands and put them into active competition, especially in the college world.

"Yale's doing the right thing. No one wants to see a fine varsity football team at Yale more than I. But if Yale doesn't win a varsity game—yet gets 90 per cent of its student body into body-contact sports—that will be a great day for the school. Body-contact sports should be stressed all over the country.

"And team games, too, because they fit into the makeup of a military man. I don't think I must add that we're going to need a lot of military men . . . for a long time."

Sports Huge Factor In Relief Set-Up

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)— The new emergency relief set-up the Army started when someone discovered draftees' families could be just as needy as those of regular soldiers, threw its program into high gear today.

A world heavyweight championship fight that figures to net more than $50,000 already is a reality. From there the program is laid out to cover a flock of other sports the stage and military exhibitions to mention a few of the things the directors figure will keep the dollars pouring in for the folks the boys leave behind.

"We have no set goal yet, so far as a definite sum is concerned," explained Col. John Thomas Taylor of the War Department's public relations bureau in Washington, in announcing the tentative plans. "But we'll have one soon. We have to work it all out yet."

COUNTING ON SPORTS

At the moment, the working-out process includes a big hand from sports. In addition to the Joe Louis-Abe Simon fight, March 27, other affairs lined up are the Army-Navy football game and national "days" by racing and baseball.

In other fields, the plan is for a revival of "Yip, Yip, Yaphank," the camp show Irving Berlin put on so successfully during the last World War, and a series of war expositions military representatives of the United Nations would give in various cities of the country.

"Such a series," Col. Taylor related, "was tried during the last war and netted $1,700,000.

"The Louis-Simon fight is the first in a series of special events the directors have in mind. The Army-Navy game, naturally, will be shared by both the Army Emergency and the Navy Relief Society. Several of the special events will have to be operated that way.

"The suggested racing and baseball 'national days' have been discussed by Col. Charles H. Johnson of New York with various racing associations and with Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Ford Frick of the National. Every one seemed interested in helping."

SELECTEES PREDOMINATE

Just who first realized that the soldiers' old relief set-up was a bank account for needy families of regular Army men only, excluding selectees, isn't known. But he rates a medal at least, because, as Col Taylor pointed out, "a regular in the Army today is a rarity; the majority are selectees."

Since this discovery, the old fund founded 42 years ago, has been suspended. The Emergency Relief will be directed by men not active in the Army, with Gen. John J. Pershing as honorary president. Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson as active president and War Secretary Stimson as board chairman.

Capitals Top Minor Loop

While the Cleveland Barons had no chance to help themselves simply because they were idle last night, the Indianapolis Capitols replaced them at the head of the Western Division of the American Hockey League by scoring over the Buffalo Bisons, 2-0.

It was the second consecutive win over the Bisons in as many nights for the Caps, who braved a howling crowd in a riotous struggle on the Buffalo ice.

The fans who disagreed with Referee Rabbit McVeigh's decision to slap a 10-minute misconduct penalty on Jack Toupin with only three minutes to play, tossed papers, pennies and peanuts on the ice.

David Made Sugar Bowl President

NEW ORLEANS, March 13 (AP)

Joseph B. David, who helped organize the Sugar Bowl, although he had never seen a football game, today took over the presidency of the Sugar Bowl organization and announced the group would go ahead with its plans and hope for the best.

"We're planning our program for next winter as usual," he said today. "A. N. Goldberg, the retiring president, said he'd do anything Uncle Sam asked us to and that's still true. Of course we have no idea of what's going to happen by the end of the year, but we believe college sports will continue and we plan to operate just as we have in the past."

David said the organization would "be glad" to help the Shriners with their East-West all-star game, "if they want us to." The game, held annually in San Francisco, was moved here last winter because of the war and was played Jan. 3, after the Sugar Bowl affair between Fordham and Missouri.

FLOURISHING ORGANIZATION

After two years as vice-president, David became president of the New Orleans Midwinter Sports Ass'n last night in accordance with the usual policy of advancing the vice-president. During Goldberg's administration the association increased the seating capacity of Tulane Stadium, used for Sugar Bowl football games, from about 48,000 to 73,000.

An outstanding part of the Sugar Bowl festivities has been the parties at David's suburban home, where a sign bids all guests "Welcome to the House of David." Christmas parties for the football teams invited to the Sugar Bowl have featured his entertainments.

"I had never taken any interest in football," David recalls, "until the Sugar Bowl movement started.

"The first game, when Tulane beat Temple on Jan. 1, 1935, was the first game I had ever seen and it sold me on football. I studied the rules and now I see 15 or 20 college games and a few high school affairs every season."

IN PRINTING BUSINESS

The man who will be in charge of this program, which culminates the college football season, never went to college himself. He left school at the age of 11 to work for a printer, pushing a delivery cart over the cobblestone streets of New Orleans wholesale district.

He has been in the printing business ever since, rising through the grades of office boy, "galley boy" and printer until, after army service in the first World War, he went into business for himself and now is sole owner of a large establishment.

Crosby Horses To Campaign At Gansett

When Bing Crosby ships eight horses to Narragansett Park for the spring meeting, April 11-May 9, the familiar face of his partner and ex-trainer, Lin Howard, son of Charlie "Seabiscuit" Howard, will be missing.

When Bing and Lin founded the Binglin Stock Farm the arrangement was that Bing did the crooning while Lin did the training and this worked out very well until Lin's other business interests became too exacting in their demands.

Then it was the pair cast around for a new trainer, and when their choice finally rested upon Albert Johnson, the ex-jockey, they picked themselves a real horseman.

Johnson was born and raised in the horse country around Idaho and was a contemporary of such first rate saddlesmiths as Sande, McAtee, Fator, Chick Lang, and Johnny Maiben. He rode to fame and the record books by piloting the speedy Morvich to victory in the Kentucky Derby of 1922 and repeated in the Blue Grass Classic of 1926 when scoring aboard Col E. R. Bradley's Bubbling Over.

Albert Johnson will be a new but nevertheless, very welcome addition to the New England racing ranks and the string of three 3-year-olds, one 4-year-old and four juveniles that carry the cerise and white silks will pay for watching.

Prendible Eager To Reach Finals

Chuck Prendible, veteran amateur campaigner and 1941 N. E. heavyweight champion, is among the heavies in the final N. E. A. A. U. elimination show at the Arena next Monday night.

The Charlestown boxer has hopes of winning a berth on the team chosen for the N. E. Finals set for March 23. Since winners of N. E. honors are eligible to compete in the Nationals, Prendible is down to hard training and he hopes a few tuneups will round him in shape for the big event April 13, 14 and 17.

TAMING RANGERS—Here's action from second period of last night's game between the Rangers and Bruins on Madison Square Garden ice. The game ended in a 2 to 1 victory for the Bruins. Jim Henry (on ice), Ranger goalie, has just made a save on Gordon Bruce (20) Boston. The puck is in the air to the right of Bruce's head. Bill Juzda of the Rangers skates into the action to retrieve the puck as soon at it hits the ice.

Welch Has Weight Edge on 'Chimmy'

New England middleweight champion Coley Welch, Portland, Me., weighed in at an even 160 pounds today for his 12-round fight with challenger Henry Chmielewski, Cambridge, at 157¾ pounds, tonight in the main bout of the Goodwin A. C. fistic festival at the Garden.

Chmielewski has looked so good of late that he's a slight favorite to regain the N. E. 160-pound crown which he lost to Welch, a fighting Irishman who was born in South Boston but moved to the Pine Tree State at an early age.

Chimmy polished off Jackie Donovan and Frank Nelson with such efficiency that the experts are convinced Manager Harry Kelley is correct when he refers to his "new" Chimmy. Kelley has given the Polish machine gunner plenty of class and a first-hand working knowledge of the fine points of the art of scrambling ears.

MAIN BOUT

Coleman Patrick Welch, Portland, Me., vs. Henry Chmielewski, Cambridge, 12 rounds, for N. E. middleweight championship.

SEMI-FINALS

Ralph Zanelli, Providence, vs. Billy Lancaster, Portland, 8 rounds.

Patsy Forti, Lynn, vs. Jerry Zullo, Chelsea, 8 rounds.

PRELIMINARIES

Dave Andrews, Lowell, vs. Billy Nap, Roxbury, 6 rounds.

Frank Conti, Haverhill, vs. Bobby Allard, Lynn, 6 rounds.

Ross Wasn't Joking--Bruins Still in There

By The Associated Press

When Manager Art Ross of Boston told sympathizers, "don't worry about us," after his Champion Bruins had lost five players in the midst of the heated National Hockey League race a month ago he meant what he said.

ONE GAME LEFT FOR BRUINS

And today, those sympathizers knew that Ross wasn't talking through his hat when he said, "we'll fight to the end and we'll have a lot to say about who wins the Stanley Cup."

The Bruins stopped the league-leading New York Rangers, 2-1, in Madison Square Garden last night to creep within a single point of Toronto's second-place Maple Leafs.

The runner-up question comes to a showdown tomorrow night when Boston moves into Toronto. The Bruins have only one additional game with Brooklyn, while the Leafs will play both Brooklyn and Montreal.

New York, still only three points ahead of the field, closes its schedule at Chicago Sunday. And Toronto could nose the Rangers out of the first-place spot at the finish line.

CONACHER CLINCHES GAME

Roy Conacher led the Bruin assault last night, getting both goals, but Frank Brimsek, the Boston goalie, couldn't annex a shutout and the Rangers boosted their string of consecutive scoring games to an even 100.

Early in the second period, Conacher drilled a 30-foot shot past Goalie Jim Henry's leg. Bryan Hextall, the league's leading point-maker, tied the score 13 seconds later and saved the Rangers' scoring record. But Conacher came through with the winning tally in the final session.

It was the only game on last night's card. No action is scheduled tonight.

Snow Train!

The regular one-day "Snow Train" of the Boston & Maine Railroad to North Conway, N. H., will operate next Sunday, it was announced today by F. T. Grant, general passenger agent.

The "Snow Train" will leave the North Station next Sunday at 8 a. m., and, with a single stop at Reading at 8:15 a. m., run express to North Conway.

BIG FAVORITE HARVARD FIVE TACKLES YALE

Riding the crest of a four-game winning streak, Harvard's varsity hoop team is favored to whip Yale tonight at New Haven in the final game of the season for both teams.

Paced by the twin pivot sophomore combine of Hugh Hyde and "Bunks" Burditt, the Crimson have pounded down the stretch like champions, recalling the similar late surge of the Harvard football team. Last Saturday at Cambridge, Harvard tumbled Yale 60-47.

Four seniors, three of them members of the Marine Corps, and the other, Billy Webber, in the V-7 branch of the Navy, will be playing their last game. Leathernecks Ed Buckley, Ed Rothschild, and Capt. Chris Finegan, have been outstanding, together with Hyde and Burditt, in the Crimson battle to wind up in a tie for third in the Eastern Intercollegiate League. If Columbia knocks off Cornell tomorrow night, the Johnnies will stalemate the Ithacans.

Mindful of 11 set shots thrown in by Eli Tom Vogt last Saturday, Earl Brown has concocted a special defense to smother him. Finegan and Buckley will be at forwards, Hyde at center, Burditt and Rothschild at guards. Yale mentor Ken Loeffler nominated Al Ingley and Vogt on the flanks, Austie Norton in the bucket, Captain Chuck Seelbach and Ed Dils at guards. The Harvard freshmen, who have averaged 72 points in their last four games, even while dropping two of them, tackle the powerful Baby Blues in the opener.

The Yale swimming team, the greatest dual meet squad ever developed in this country, is expected to give the hapless Crimson varsity an artistic dunking tonight in New Haven.

DiMag Signs for $5000 Raise

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio came to terms with the New York Yankees in an hour-long conference with President Ed Barrow. Although the salary was not announced, it was believed to be $42,000.

Both men emerged smiling and Barrow said: "We reached a compromise. That's all I can say."

When pressed for some detail, however, he added that the figure was a little over the $40,000 offer made to DiMaggio last week and described at that time as final.

DiMaggio said:

"I came expecting to have to battle but it was very friendly and satisfactory and I am very happy."

The big centerfielder, who set an all-time record of hitting in 56 consecutive games last year and was voted the most valuable player in the American League, said he would report immediately to Manager Joe McCarthy and would be ready to play or do anything else Joe asked.

DiMaggio's salary will be $5000 more than he earned last year

BRAVES' FAKIR — Johnny Hutchings, Braves' giant hurler, keeps his teammates entertained with his many feats of contortion. He started with three chairs under him but he took the middle one out and lifted it over his body and back to its original place.

BRAVES' HURLER COULD MAKE GOOD LIVING AS CONTORTIONIST IN CIRCUS SIDE-SHOW

By BILL GRIMES

SANFORD, Fla., March 13—John "Butcher Boy" Hutchings, Braves' giant pitcher, is as limber as a hunk of gum rubber. "Big John" carries more weight than any player in the National League, but his poundage is so well distributed that he even crosses up the "guess-your-weight-within-three-pounds-or-no-charge" barkers.

Just before he went out for the first practice session of the season, "Hutch" was weighed in by "Doc" May, Braves' trainer. The dial on the weighing machine finally came to a halt at the 250 mark. However, "Big John," who will celebrate his 26th birthday on the opening day of the 1942 season, is as hard as nails. He stands six-two, and, considering his tremendous bulk, is very well proportioned. During the off season, he lugged sides of beef for a Chicago packing concern.

NEVER DOWN

He is a tireless worker—the first man on the field and one of the last to quit. And he's on the go for the duration of all practice sessions.

After limbering up, he gets into a pepper game until it is his turn to warm up to pitch batting practice. Then, he takes the "Stengel treatment," which is fielding 20 or 30 grounders hit alternating to his right and left, necessitating a run of 10 or 12 yards to reach the balls. After that he goes to the outfield, where he shags fungoes hit by Bob Coleman.

Pitchers get into condition by running rather than by throwing balls. Hutchings has run many miles chasing flies all over the outfield. But, never has he admitted that he was "down."

"Big John" is always as fresh as a daisy when he returns to the clubhouse between or after sessions. After a light lunch, he entertains his clubmates with a few of his pet stunts.

Can you picture a 250-pound six-foot-two man lifting his right foot and placing it against his left cheek? There are very few 250-pound contortionists.

Another of "Hutch's" feats is to bend over and without breaking his knees, put the palms of his hands behind his heels. Still another is lying prone on three chairs, and, while suspending his weight on his heels and neck he'd take the middle chair out and swing it up over his body and replace it.

But, his best feat is done with a broom stick. Holding the stick with his hands spread well apart, he places it against the mop board of the wall or even a trunk. Then, he goes under the stick, rotating his body in such a way that he comes up to his original position.

HE'S IN GREAT SHAPE

Despite the tremendous amount of work he has done on the field and in the clubhouse, "Big Hutch" has only taken off seven pounds since he came to camp, which is a very good indication, even in the face of Jim Tobin's remark, If you'd go out there and do some work, you'd take off 25 pounds" that the "Butcher Boy" is in great shape. He's just naturally big, but being supple and active he has managed to work his way into the big league instead of a side show with a circus.

Miller's Weakening

$15,000 on his services, and Quinn gave him a contract for that amount.

Miller told me he recognizes the fact he had a poor season in 1941. Eddie is prepared to take a slash in salary. But he believes that a cut of $5000 is too much.

After a conversation with Miller as we played 18 holes of golf at the Palm Beach Golf Club I would say that if Quinn were to offer his brilliant shortstop $12,500 that he would sign on the dotted line without hesitation.

"I think we are going to have a swell ball club this year," said Miller. "What batting power we'll have if Lombardi, West, Fernandez and Ross get hitting at the same time. I confess I would much rather be working out with the Braves at Sanford than getting birdies in a golf match with you."

Miller had just chipped into the hole off the green of the 18th hole for a snappy three. It was a par four hole.

"Golf is a grand game and I like it," said Miller, "John Bernardi of the Charles Rivier Country Club taught me how to play golf while I was convalescing from a broken leg. Personally, though, I would rather get a base hit in the clutch with men on bases than score a 70 in a golf tournament."

Eddie told me he would like to get word to start for Sanford as he was anxious to adjust his differences with the Braves and get into the old ball game.

NOT HARDBOILED

I suggested to Miller that he take an auto trip to Sanford to see Quinn. It is my belief that once Quinn and Miller get into a huddle that it will only be a matter of minutes before they agree on the terms of a contract.

I look for Eddie to come to terms with the Braves before the early part of next week.

"I may take your advice and hop right over and see Quinn," said Miller as we parted. "After all, I would rather play baseball than do anything else."

Cardinals Loaded With Southpaws

By The Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The Cardinals' five lefthanded pitchers might form the strongest southpaw staff in the majors. Last year, the quintet won 71 and lost 31. Thirty-five victories were in the National League and 36 in the minors. The fivve are Ernie White, Howard Pollet, Max Lanier, Clyde Shoun and Harry Brecheen.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers has a neat method of making his infielders run during workouts by hitting slow rollers, first to one side and then the other. But First Baseman Lee Burge has his own system of combatting Durocher's game. Fielding each ball, he stuffs it into his shirt instead of throwing it back.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal.—Lee Handley, Pittsburgh third baseman, arrived back in camp with the word that treatments he received in Los Angeles were relieving the soreness in his right shoulder, injured in an automobile accident last November Frankie Frisch is counting on Handley to back up Bob Elliott, transplanted outfielder, at the hot corner.

Germans Returned From Russia Show Less Faith in Nazis

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—Information from sources in close contact with Berlin said there has been a marked change in German soldiers returning from Russia as compared with those who came back from the fighting fronts a year ago.

These men are more serious and more anxious about the future, these sources said. They try to find seclusion and rest and avoid any talk of the war and heroism.

This picture presents the returning soldiers as openly critical of Nazi propaganda, especially such catch phrases as "Bolshevist monster" and "Russian hell."

Their attitude, it is said, is that the Russians and the Germans are suffering the same hardships.

Held in Idle Fund Fraud

Charged with accepting unemployment compensation while still holding a job, Antonia Accettillo, 30, of Washington ter., Dedham, a salesman for a Brookline auto concern, today was ordered held in $2000 on his appeal of a 280-day jail sentence and a $405 fine.

In Dedham court Accettillo was sentenced to 10 days in jail for each of 28 counts of false representation and fined $15 on each of 27 counts of larceny by Judge Edmund R. Murray. The defendant pleaded not guilty.

State Police Lieut. William H. Delay testified Accettillo accepted $15 a week for 27 weeks from July 15, 1939 to Dec. 1940, while still employed as an auto salesman.

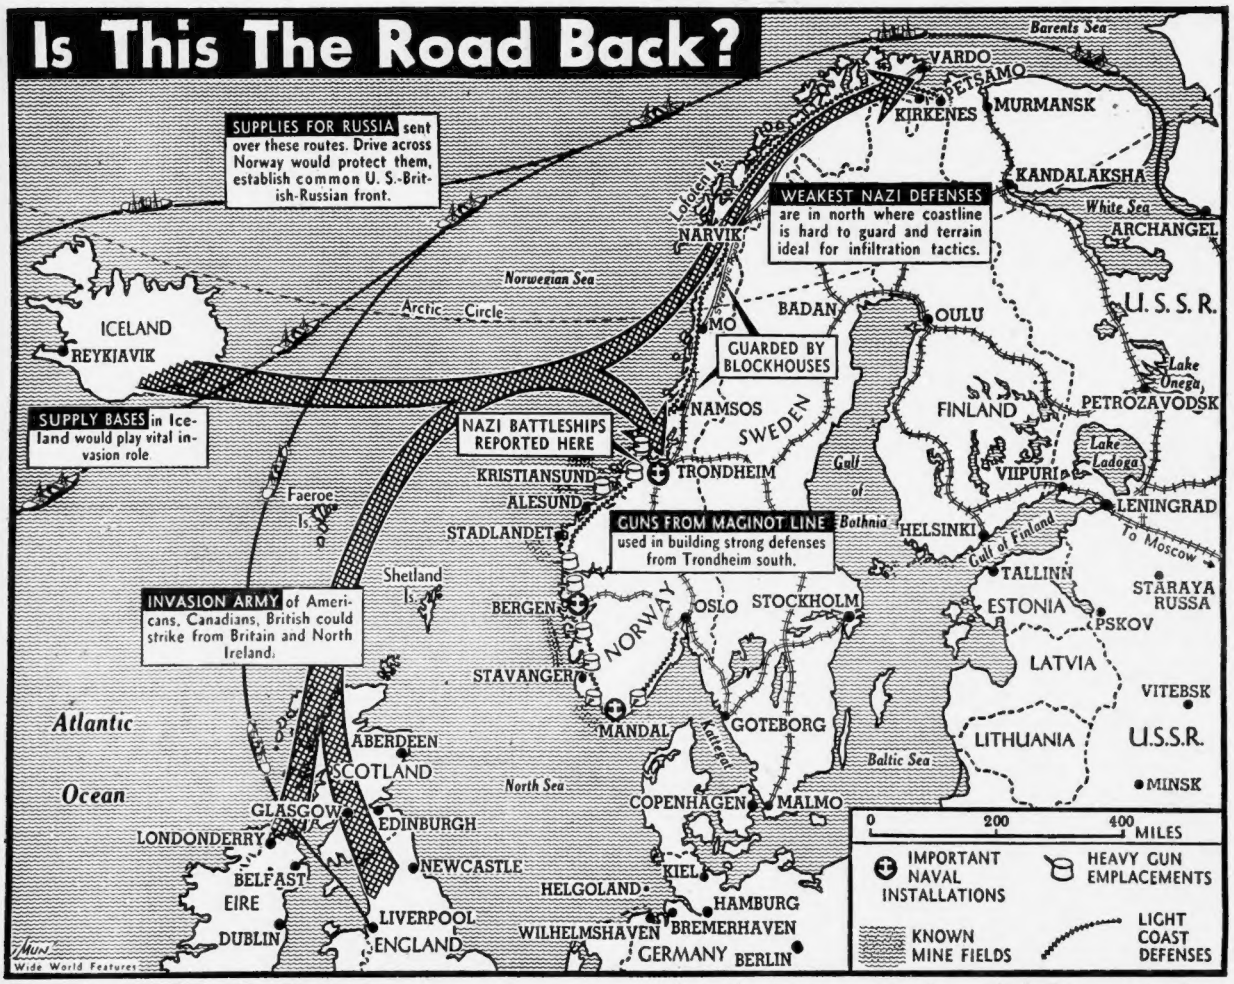
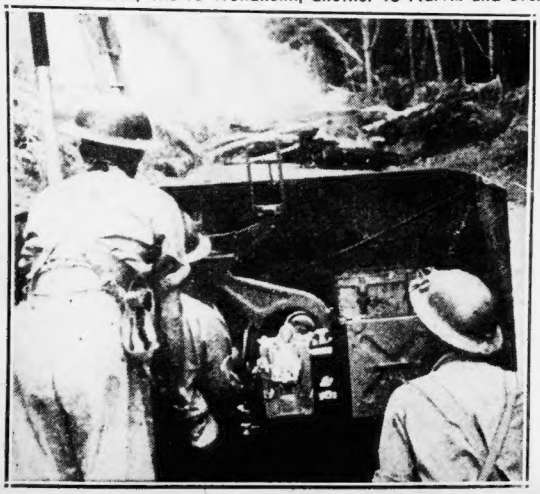
Is This The Road Back?



Route to Berlin?—Air and naval operations now under way indicate that the time has come for an Allied offensive against Germany via a new front in Norway, where a common front could be built with Russia. The assembling of big armies of Americans and Canadians in the British Isles also lends credence to the belief that invasion by the Allies is near. Map indicates possible invasion routes, one to Trondheim, another to Narvik and overland to Murmansk to link with Russians. From there, Germany is 1330 miles away.



Aussies Blast Jap Tanks at Barricade
